Boy Who Began Work as Laborer Rose Steadily in City and State

His friends of the area, in all walks of life, rejoiced today over the announcement that Arthur H. Wicks, of this city, will become lieutenant governor of New York state.

Elevation to the post from that of senator from the 34th senatorial district and Republican majority leader in the Legislature came at a conference in Albany, when Frank C. Moore resigned his lieutenant governorship, effective in September.

Wicks, who has been in Florida since adjournment of the Legislature, will remain as majority leader of the Senate.

Chamber of Commerce Has Special Membership Session

By-laws were amended, reports of progress on Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge planning were received and plans for the membership campaign were outlined at a special membership meeting of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce at the court house Wednesday night.

Vice President Maynard Mizel presided at the meeting, which drew a small but enthusiastic attendance.

James L. Rowe, chairman of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge committee, reported that the land for access roads has been appraised and that there is an "excellent possibility" of actually starting work on the bridge this year by the New York State Bridge Authority.

Herbert C. Myers, chairman of the relatively new Arterial Route Traffic Committee, reported that he was pleased with Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk's announcement that the Washington avenue approach to the city would be investigated immediately by the State Department of Public Works. Myers announced that Charles Murphy, a traffic engineer for the Automobile Club of New York, has been invited to visit Kingston to study the city's traffic problems. He will report and make recommendations on his findings. Myers also called attention to the resolution passed by the Chamber board of directors at the February meeting, calling attention to the need for improving the approach.

Laotian Defenders Fight Red Patrol, Kill 7, Capture One

Hanoi, Indochina, April 23 (AP)—French and Laotian defenders of the kingdom of Laos clashed with a patrol of the Communist-led Vietminh today on the Plaine De Jarres, killing seven of the invaders and capturing one.

Vietminh mortars meanwhile kept up a heavy barrage on the French airstrip and defense posts in the plain, 72 miles southwest of the Laotian royal capital of Luangprabang. French fighter planes and bombers steadily plastered the Red positions in the hills around the French encampment.

Wicks Stays As Senate's President

Moore to Become Head of New Rockefeller Foundation to Study Government

Albany, April 23 (AP)—Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore, apparently giving up hope of becoming governor, resigned today to take the presidency of a new Rockefeller Foundation for the study of government.

The resignation is effective next September.

Arthur H. Wicks, Republican majority leader of the State Senate, automatically will succeed Moore as lieutenant governor, a post that pays $10,000 a year plus $9,000 in lieu of expenses. Wicks will retain his post as Senate leader. Wicks lives in Kingston.

Moore said his surprise move was not motivated by money or by any knowledge or belief that Gov. Dewey would run for a fourth term in 1954.

Moore, lieutenant governor since 1951, will become president of a new, non-profit foundation being established in New York city today by Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Moore said that the new organization was designed "to advance and improve the science of government and the administration of public affairs through governmental research."

Moore's decision to leave government service came as a political bombshell. He had served under the Dewey administration as comptroller and lieutenant governor.

He had been hailed as the probable Republican choice to succeed Dewey as governor.

Fourth Term Speculation

The resignation of the 57-year-old Canadian-born lawyer and financial expert gave rise to fresh speculation that Dewey would seek a fourth term next year.

Dewey has said lately that he does not know what he will do when his third term expires next year.

However, there has been a growing belief among politicians and political reporters that Dewey is eyeing another term so that he might stay in the limelight for another chance at the presidency.

Moore's denial of any knowledge of Dewey's intentions and his statement that his decision to resign was not influenced by political considerations seemed certain to be discounted in political circles.

Dewey Expresses Regret

South Korean Says Fingers Hacked Off by His Captors

Recently-Wounded Are Among Allies Who Are Back in UN Hands

Freedom Village, Korea, April 23 (AP)—Pain-wracked allied soldiers, wounded only a few weeks ago in bloody fighting for outpost hills in western Korea, came back from Communist captivity today.

Some managed a smile or a joke despite the pain of unhealed wounds. Others, pale with shock and suffering, gripped the sides of their litters.

A South Korean told of almost unbelievable cruelties by his North Korean captors. Master Sgt. Kim Ka Sung, 25, said the Reds climaxed their torture by hacking off all his fingers—some with a saw.

Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the Eighth Army Commander, called it "a scandalous case."

Some U. S. Marines freed today lived through the tremendous mortar and artillery barrages and the hand-to-hand combat on Vegas and Reno outposts March 26.

And there were some Colombians captured when Chinese overran nearby Old Baldy at about the same time. Ninety-six Colombians have been missing since that battle.

Corpsman Gives Story

A young navy hospital corpsman, Thomas Waddill, 20, of Fort Worth, Tex., said marines who had lost consciousness from lack of oxygen in a small cave on outpost Reno were riddled with burp gun fire.

"I was in the cave when the outpost was hit," he said. "There were just three of us walking around. Lots of the guys were asphyxiated and snoring. The Chinese started spraying us with burp guns and grenades. They came in the cave. I got powder burns from a pistol. Then I got shot in the neck and I thought I was going to die. I just kept moving around and finally they captured me."

Pfc. Samuel J. Armstrong, 18, of San Antonio, Tex., captured on Vegas, said he knew of 10 other Americans captured in the bitter fight who are still prisoners. He said he was well treated.

Marine Pfc. Joseph Britt, Jr. of Long Beach, Calif., captured in the same fight, said the Chinese gave him only battle dressings for several days. Britt was wounded in the arm and leg by shrapnel and had light shrapnel wounds on his head.

Wouldn't Treat Leg

Britt said he was marched by the Chinese for about two hours until he collapsed from loss of blood.

I didn't know I was wounded in the leg until I was in the hospital and they were my worst wounds," he said. "I couldn't make them understand to take my boots off. About all they'd do was wrap you up."

He was with six other Marines. He was not questioned very much but "they constantly questioned the other guys."

When he was questioned, he said, "I asked them questions to keep them from asking me questions. They thought I was quite the clown. I guess I am too good looking and too mean to die.

"They had their chance and they couldn't do it."

Senate Puts Move On Shelf Regarding Probe of Atrocities

Some Committee Members Regard Proposal as Premature—Sees 'Diversion'

Washington, April 23 (AP)—A proposal to inquire into Red atrocities against prisoners of war in Korea has been put temporarily on a Senate shelf.

After being assured that the army and State Department will step up collection of evidence with a view to later war crimes prosecutions of the Communists for any atrocities against U. S. or United Nations prisoners, the Senate Appropriations Committee dropped plans to investigate.

Some members of the committee, like Sens. Ellender (D.-La.) and Magnuson (D.-Wash.), said they regarded yesterday's two-hour inquiry, ordered by Chairman Bridges (R.-N. H.) as "premature."

Rep. Judd (R.-Minn.) said meanwhile the Communists are using the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners to divert American attention from "the main campaign"—a thrust toward rich southeast Asia.

"We are getting back a few boys in exchange for a continent," he said. "Certainly we want to get all of the American prisoners we can, but we shouldn't allow ourselves to be blinded to Communist strategy."

Says Laos Grave Threat

Judd said a Red-sparked drive into Laos kingdom of northern French Indochina is a grave threat to all of southeast Asia. The drive started just after Peiping announced acceptance of UN proposals to exchange sick and wounded prisoners.

Representative Zablocki (D.-Wis.) said the Laos campaign is "very serious" and agreed with Judd that the attack should be turned over to the United Nations. Laos has petitioned for UN help but no action has been taken.

Communists Say They Will Return Sick and Wounded Now Held in North Korea

Panmunjom, April 23 (AP)—The Communists said today they would free more disabled allied prisoners—a startling reversal of their earlier insistence on releasing only 605.

They did not say how many more, nor their nationalities. But they did pledge to return all sick and wounded allied troops in North Korean stockades as well as those captured recently.

The unexpected move apparently stalled off a possible UN protest that the Reds were holding back some disabled captives.

Allied prisoners exchanged in four days have said many more seriously sick and wounded were left behind in North Korea.

Gen. Mark Clark, UN commander, said he was gratified that the Communists, "in response to repeated requests from the UN command, have agreed to return * * * all UN personnel in this category."

Some of the recently-wounded prisoners came back Thursday, pale and unbelieving. The day's total was 14 Americans, five Australians, six Colombians and 75 South Koreans.

Forty more Americans are due Friday. So are four British, four Turks, one Hollander, one Canadian and 50 South Koreans.

Committee Hits At Power Angle

Appropriations Group Says Interior Agency Is in Wrong Business

Washington, April 23 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee said today the Interior Department should quit competing with private enterprise in the field of power.

To put force into its recommendation, it asked the House to cut the department's budget for the fiscal year 1954 by slightly more than one-third of the amount former President Truman asked.

The recommendation was embodied in a bill carrying $404,863,239 to run the department for the year starting July 1. This is $202,473,161 less than Truman requested in January and $137,874,262 less than the department received this year.

Deep cuts were made in funds requested for transmission lines and power plants.

The committee laid down a genedal policy for future guidance of the department. These instructions could be eliminated or revised by the full House, or by the Senate, but the House Committee's recommendations normally carry great weight.

Two Rhinebeck Men Killed in Accident

Rhinebeck, April 23 (AP)—Two young men recently discharged from the army were killed early today when their automobile collided with a milk tank truck.

The dead were Walter Cole, 28, and John J. Frost, 24, both of Rhinebeck.

The accident occurred north of here. State police said their automobile collided headon with the tank truck owned by Ralph Beyer, of Schenectady, and operated by James Yates, 33, of Ballston Lake. Yates was uninjured.

Dr. L. Edward Cotter, Dutchess county medical examiner, said Cole died of a crushed chest and punctured lung, and that Frost died of a skull fracture.

Thruway Span Less Than Mile North of Rt. 28; 267 Feet Long

South abutments for the Sawkill road bridge over the New York State Thruway have been built and some pier footings are in, a spokesman for John Arborio, Inc., contractor for the Route 28-Sawkill section said today.

The 267-foot span is to be built near the Roach farm (formerly Cherry Hill Farm) less than a mile north of Route 28.

The contractor, aided by last winter's mild weather, has been making progress on the grading and other work, but it was indicated today that the section will not be ready for the pouring of concrete until around July.

Expected to Start Work

A state engineer indicated today, meanwhile, that contractor A. E. Ottaviano Inc., of Croton, who bid low at $7,349,569 on the Kingston-Whiteport section, is expected to start work as soon as he obtains right-of-way clearance.

This contract calls for the building of 7.61 miles of thruway, a traffic interchange system, and 1.66 miles of access roads.

Plans are not yet ready for bidding on the Whiteport-Ohioville section, but work is expected to start soon on the Newburgh-Ohioville strip.

BPW Okays $25,000 To Buy Power Shovel

The Board of Public Works, at a special meeting today, authorized Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk to request the Common Council to appropriate $25,000 for the purchase of a new power shovel.

A more efficient shovel is needed to carry on the city's street building and repair program this spring and summer, the mayor said, and the special meeting was called at 11:30 a. m., today in the mayor's office so that it may be purchased at an early date if the appropriation is approved.

The shovel now in use was bought in 1938.

Probe Is Voted

United Nations, April 23 (AP)—The UN General Assembly today voted overwhelmingly for an impartial investigation of Communist charges that American troops waged germ warfare in Korea. The vote, 51-5, (Soviet bloc) with four abstentions came immediately after the U. S. accused Russia with "utterly and completely iniquitous" behavior for spreading the charge and called Soviet opposition to the investigation "reprehensible in the extreme."

President Ready to Do Anything, He Says, And to Confer Anywhere to Obtain Peace

Washington, April 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he is ready to do anything and confer anywhere to bring about peace in Korea.

The President told a news conference, however, that like everyone else he is simply waiting now to see how developments go in Korea.

His statements were in response to a question as to whether he felt the chances are good for a prompt truce in Korea.

In reply to another question, the President said he has had no reaction from the Kremlin to the world peace and disarmament plan he set forth a week ago.

He said the government is studying and analyzing the prisoner exchange situation, and that obviously, from news stories of atrocities, something is wrong.

He added that he as yet has no full and complete report on the matter and so can't determine what the actual facts are.

On Other Matters

On other matters, the President:

1. Said he is confident defense spending will be cut for the fiscal year starting July 1, but that he is not ready to estimate how much the saving will be.

2. Announced that the National Security Council has advised him it would be advantageous to national security for the United States to participate in construction of the St. Lawrence seaway. He said the council has made no recommendation yet as to the extent of American participation.

3. He believes it would have been wise for the House to vote funds to continue the administration program for starting 35,000 public housing units. The House voted yesterday to end the program. Eisenhower said, however, he does not feel that House members who joined in the vote against funds for public housing were defying him.

4. Said he and other administration officials are studying plans for reorganization of both the State and the Defense departments. The plan will be sent to Congress soon.

5. Declared emphatically that plans for defense of Europe against possible Communist aggression cannot be based either on the idea that an attack might be imminent, or that it might come several years from now. Defense plans, he added, must be flexible enough to meet all emergencies.

Anyone who tells you he can predict the day or hour of an attack is crazy, the President said.

Sees 'Best' Trade Move

6. Remarked he is not necessarily against any change in the reciprocal trade act but feels that a simple one-year extension beyond June 12 would be the best move at this time, pending further study of the situation.

7. Described the matter of opening up the atomic energy field to private industry as one which is challenging both the Atomic Energy Commission and other government agencies. Some changes in the law may be necessary to permit it, but certainly it is the hope of everyone that something can be done in that direction, the President added.

8. Said that if any government officials have been discharged from important jobs for patronage reasons, he is completely unaware of it. He said he does not want things run that way. He went on to say that if government officials are unable to subscribe to administration policy, then the only alternative is for them to resign.

Believes in Justice

9. In comment on the submerged oil lands legislation pending in the Senate, said his position has been stated many times. He said he believes in justice in disposition of the oil-rich lands, and added with a smile that after four weeks of Senate debate he believes that even those who oppose him on the issue must be pretty well educated regarding it.

10. Said there has been no diplomatic correspondence which has come to his attention regarding the possibility of a Four Power conference on the world situation. The reporter who put the question apparently was referring to a possible meeting of representatives from the U. S., Great Britain, France and Russia.

McGovern Might Get Tax Survey Job From Governor

Albany, April 23 (AP)—State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern probably will be selected by Gov. Dewey to spearhead the state administration's campaign for a far-reaching reshuffling of federal-state taxes.

The governor is reported ready to name the 54-year-old New Rochelle lawyer as chairman of an 11-member state commission to handle a $575,000 survey of taxes, state-local governments and the multi-million-dollar "State Aid" program for localities.

The assignment might lead to big developments, not only in New York state, but nationally.

President Eisenhower's administration already has begun a similar study of federal-state relationships on a national scale.

So far Dewey has been an inner-circle adviser to the new president. The Dewey administration's theories on the tax relationships, as drawn by McGovern and his yet-to-be-named commission, could form the basis for drastic changes in the national government's fiscal policies.

McGovern's appointment to the new commission post might have a bearing on his ultimate decision whether to remain in state politics when his present term as comptroller ends Dec. 31, 1954.

He had been reported anxious to quit the Albany scene in favor

Reaction Varies

Eisenhower Appeal Made for 240,000 Refugees Within 2 Years

Washington, April 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower's appeal for legislation to open the United States to 240,000 refugees in the next two years met with mixed reaction in Congress today.

The cautious reserve with which his proposal was received by some key senators handling immigration matters gave no promise of swift congressional action.

The President made his request in a letter yesterday to Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Joseph Martin (R.-Mass.).

The President proposed that the 240,000 be in addition to existing quotas.

Washington, April 23 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee said today the Interior Department should quit competing with private enterprise in the field of power.

To put force into its recommendation, it asked the House to cut the department's budget for the fiscal year 1954 by slightly more than one-third of the amount former President Truman asked.

The recommendation was embodied in a bill carrying $404,863,239 to run the department for the year starting July 1. This is $202,473,161 less than Truman requested in January and $137,874,262 less than the department received this year.

Deep cuts were made in funds requested for transmission lines and power plants.

The committee laid down a genedal policy for future guidance of the department. These instructions could be eliminated or revised by the full House, or by the Senate, but the House Committee's recommendations normally carry great weight.

Two Rhinebeck Men Killed in Accident

Rhinebeck, April 23 (AP)—Two young men recently discharged from the army were killed early today when their automobile collided with a milk tank truck.

The dead were Walter Cole, 28, and John J. Frost, 24, both of Rhinebeck.

The accident occurred north of here. State police said their automobile collided headon with the tank truck owned by Ralph Beyer, of Schenectady, and operated by James Yates, 33, of Ballston Lake. Yates was uninjured.

Dr. L. Edward Cotter, Dutchess county medical examiner, said Cole died of a crushed chest and punctured lung, and that Frost died of a skull fracture.

Thruway Span Less Than Mile North of Rt. 28; 267 Feet Long

South abutments for the Sawkill road bridge over the New York State Thruway have been built and some pier footings are in, a spokesman for John Arborio, Inc., contractor for the Route 28-Sawkill section said today.

The 267-foot span is to be built near the Roach farm (formerly Cherry Hill Farm) less than a mile north of Route 28.

The contractor, aided by last winter's mild weather, has been making progress on the grading and other work, but it was indicated today that the section will not be ready for the pouring of concrete until around July.

Expected to Start Work

A state engineer indicated today, meanwhile, that contractor A. E. Ottaviano Inc., of Croton, who bid low at $7,349,569 on the Kingston-Whiteport section, is expected to start work as soon as he obtains right-of-way clearance.

This contract calls for the building of 7.61 miles of thruway, a traffic interchange system, and 1.66 miles of access roads.

Plans are not yet ready for bidding on the Whiteport-Ohioville section, but work is expected to start soon on the Newburgh-Ohioville strip.

BPW Okays $25,000 To Buy Power Shovel

The Board of Public Works, at a special meeting today, authorized Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk to request the Common Council to appropriate $25,000 for the purchase of a new power shovel.

A more efficient shovel is needed to carry on the city's street building and repair program this spring and summer, the mayor said, and the special meeting was called at 11:30 a. m., today in the mayor's office so that it may be purchased at an early date if the appropriation is approved.

The shovel now in use was bought in 1938.

Probe Is Voted

United Nations, April 23 (AP)—The UN General Assembly today voted overwhelmingly for an impartial investigation of Communist charges that American troops waged germ warfare in Korea. The vote, 51-5, (Soviet bloc) with four abstentions came immediately after the U. S. accused Russia with "utterly and completely iniquitous" behavior for spreading the charge and called Soviet opposition to the investigation "reprehensible in the extreme."

Reaction Varies

Eisenhower Appeal Made for 240,000 Refugees Within 2 Years

Washington, April 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower's appeal for legislation to open the United States to 240,000 refugees in the next two years met with mixed reaction in Congress today.

The cautious reserve with which his proposal was received by some key senators handling immigration matters gave no promise of swift congressional action.

The President made his request in a letter yesterday to Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Joseph Martin (R.-Mass.).

The President proposed that the 240,000 be in addition to existing quotas.

President Ready to Do Anything, He Says, And to Confer Anywhere to Obtain Peace

Washington, April 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he is ready to do anything and confer anywhere to bring about peace in Korea.

The President told a news conference, however, that like everyone else he is simply waiting now to see how developments go in Korea.

His statements were in response to a question as to whether he felt the chances are good for a prompt truce in Korea.

In reply to another question, the President said he has had no reaction from the Kremlin to the world peace and disarmament plan he set forth a week ago.

He said the government is studying and analyzing the prisoner exchange situation, and that obviously, from news stories of atrocities, something is wrong.

He added that he as yet has no full and complete report on the matter and so can't determine what the actual facts are.

On Other Matters

On other matters, the President:

1. Said he is confident defense spending will be cut for the fiscal year starting July 1, but that he is not ready to estimate how much the saving will be.

2. Announced that the National Security Council has advised him it would be advantageous to national security for the United States to participate in construction of the St. Lawrence seaway. He said the council has made no recommendation yet as to the extent of American participation.

3. He believes it would have been wise for the House to vote funds to continue the administration program for starting 35,000 public housing units. The House voted yesterday to end the program. Eisenhower said, however, he does not feel that House members who joined in the vote against funds for public housing were defying him.

4. Said he and other administration officials are studying plans for reorganization of both the State and the Defense departments. The plan will be sent to Congress soon.

5. Declared emphatically that plans for defense of Europe against possible Communist aggression cannot be based either on the idea that an attack might be imminent, or that it might come several years from now. Defense plans, he added, must be flexible enough to meet all emergencies.

Anyone who tells you he can predict the day or hour of an attack is crazy, the President said.

Sees 'Best' Trade Move

6. Remarked he is not necessarily against any change in the reciprocal trade act but feels that a simple one-year extension beyond June 12 would be the best move at this time, pending further study of the situation.

7. Described the matter of opening up the atomic energy field to private industry as one which is challenging both the Atomic Energy Commission and other government agencies. Some changes in the law may be necessary to permit it, but certainly it is the hope of everyone that something can be done in that direction, the President added.

8. Said that if any government officials have been discharged from important jobs for patronage reasons, he is completely unaware of it. He said he does not want things run that way. He went on to say that if government officials are unable to subscribe to administration policy, then the only alternative is for them to resign.

Believes in Justice

9. In comment on the submerged oil lands legislation pending in the Senate, said his position has been stated many times. He said he believes in justice in disposition of the oil-rich lands, and added with a smile that after four weeks of Senate debate he believes that even those who oppose him on the issue must be pretty well educated regarding it.

10. Said there has been no diplomatic correspondence which has come to his attention regarding the possibility of a Four Power conference on the world situation. The reporter who put the question apparently was referring to a possible meeting of representatives from the U. S., Great Britain, France and Russia.

McGovern Might Get Tax Survey Job From Governor

Albany, April 23 (AP)—State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern probably will be selected by Gov. Dewey to spearhead the state administration's campaign for a far-reaching reshuffling of federal-state taxes.

The governor is reported ready to name the 54-year-old New Rochelle lawyer as chairman of an 11-member state commission to handle a $575,000 survey of taxes, state-local governments and the multi-million-dollar "State Aid" program for localities.

The assignment might lead to big developments, not only in New York state, but nationally.

President Eisenhower's administration already has begun a similar study of federal-state relationships on a national scale.

So far Dewey has been an inner-circle adviser to the new president. The Dewey administration's theories on the tax relationships, as drawn by McGovern and his yet-to-be-named commission, could form the basis for drastic changes in the national government's fiscal policies.

McGovern's appointment to the new commission post might have a bearing on his ultimate decision whether to remain in state politics when his present term as comptroller ends Dec. 31, 1954.

He had been reported anxious to quit the Albany scene in favor

Hanoi, Indochina, April 23 (AP)—French and Laotian defenders of the kingdom of Laos clashed with a patrol of the Communist-led Vietminh today on the Plaine De Jarres, killing seven of the invaders and capturing one.

Vietminh mortars meanwhile kept up a heavy barrage on the French airstrip and defense posts in the plain, 72 miles southwest of the Laotian royal capital of Luangprabang. French fighter planes and bombers steadily plastered the Red positions in the hills around the French encampment.

Hearing Continues In Transport Rift

New York, April 23 (AP)—An arbitration hearing continues today in the dispute between Local 252 of the CIO Transport Workers Union and three bus lines in Queens and Nassau counties.

The dispute recently led to a 49-day strike of 235 employes of the Bee Line, Inc., the Rockville Centre Bus Corporation and the Utility Line, Inc.

At an afternoon session of yesterday's opening hearing, union counsel Asher W. Schwartz testified about the union's demands. He contended that wages in the transit industry generally are fixed without regard to ability to pay.

"When they don't have the ability to pay it makes it harder," he said, "but they will pay whether they have the ability or not."

He spoke of "other alternatives," such as fare increases and curtailment of bus service, as possible solutions for the companies.

Schwartz had said in an opening statement that the most important issue before the arbitration panel was conversion to a five-day week. The men now work approximately 50 hours over six days.

Union Demands

The union seeks a nine-hour day and five-day week, with no loss in weekly take-home pay. The union also wants a wage increase of 25 cents an hour. The top hourly pay for bus operators now is $1.56.

After being sworn as a witness, Schwartz said that even in cases where proof of inability to pay a wage increase was demonstrated and where the wage demands subsequently were granted, the companies still continued to do business, and without a fare rise. He said the Club Transportation Company of Yonkers was an example.

In response to a question from Henry Clay, counsel to the arbitration panel, Schwartz conceded that present wages were "not below the standards in the rest of the industry" as of last year. He added that the union's present wage demands are necessary to maintain those standards.

Clay Pictures

Lethbridge (AP) — George F. Byrne of Lethbridge uses only a toothpick and a match to produce delicate floral pictures from clay. His pictures, ranging in size from 3 to 4 inches to 18 by 24, can be found as far away as Salt Lake City, Utah. He says some day he would like to turn what now is a hobby into a small business. Byrne started dabbling with ceramics back in 1947 when he made earrings and brooches. He decided to switch to pictures which he mounts on velvet backgrounds.

Blue Tongue Kills Sheep

Johannesburg, South Africa, April 23 (AP)—Blue tongue sickness, a virus disease, has killed more than one million of South Africa's 34 million sheep so far this summer. It is the worst outbreak of the disease in the union's history. Farmers are hoping for an early winter—in the Southern Hemisphere it parallels summer in northern latitudes—to kill the mosquitoes and midges which spread the ailment.

To Cut Broadcasts, Fire 830 From Jobs

Washington, April 23 (AP)—A proposed $10,600,000 cutback in the nation's cold war propaganda program and a State Department move to shed the whole operation drew some skeptical study today on Capitol Hill.

Dr. Robert L. Johnson, new boss of the International Information Administration which runs the program for the State Department, announced the economy cutback yesterday and said it would involve:

1. Firing 830 present employes and abolishing 167 other jobs now vacant.

2. A sharp reduction in "Voice of America" broadcasts, except to Iron Curtain areas and a few others deemed "critical."

He estimated the dollar savings "would be about 10 per cent" but gave no specific figures.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee before which Johnson disclosed the plan, said later he expects a further report from Johnson "on the statistical reasons for his belief that we can do this thing without harm to the program."

Johnson told the subcommittee Secretary of State Dulles himself endorses the idea that the information agency should be divorced from the State Department.

Mother Feeds Poison To Babes; Two Die

New York, April 23 (AP)—A 21-year-old mother mixed rat poison in a pot of chicken rice soup and deliberately spoon fed the concoction to her three small children and then drank some herself police said today.

Two of the babies died. The third child and the mother, Mrs. Hilda Acevedo of Manhattan, were in serious condition.

The poison was administered last night. An hour later Mrs. Acevedo's husband, Anthony, 51-year-old building superintendent, returned home to find things apparently normal.

But during the night, he told police, his wife awakened him and told him what had happened. Early today Dennis, 2½ months, and Milton, 16 months, died. Betty, 2½ years old, was dangerously ill.

Police quoted Mrs. Acevedo as saying she was despondent and disgusted" over the family's finances. But the husband was quoted by officers as saying his drinking habits worried her.

Mrs. Acevedo was booked by telephone on a charge of homicide and was placed under police guard at Knickerbocker Hospital.

Fast Talking Cop Saves Colleague

Old Lyme, Conn., April 23 (AP)—A fast-talking state policeman probably saved a colleague from being shot here early today moments before both captured a 60-year-old Lyme man, said Capt. Carroll Shaw.

The troopers, Robert Hart and Frederick Burkhardt, were buzzed while patrolling the Boston Post Road to head for the home of William Hull after a neighbor complained to the Westbrook barracks. She said Hull was smashing up his home and she was sheltering his wife and children.

Hart arrived first to find the house in darkness. With searchlights he placed around the house, the trooper spotted Hull hiding in back of an automobile in the garage.

As he approached Hull, the man pointed a .32 special high-powered rifle at him and shouted:

"Don't move! Don't come closer!"

Burkhardt arrived meantime, and quickly took a position behind the tree from where he engaged Hull in a 20-minute conversation "that felt like hours."

Talking fast, according to Capt. Shaw, Burkhardt reached a point where Hull and he began discussing hobbies.

The trooper finally talked Hull into showing him "something" in the man's work-shop. As soon as Hull lowered his rifle, both policemen jumped him. He wrestled momentarily, and was subdued.

Taken to the Westbrook barracks, Hull was booked on charges of breach of peace, resisting arrest and intoxication.

Blue Tongue Kills Sheep

Johannesburg, South Africa, April 23 (AP)—Blue tongue sickness, a virus disease, has killed more than one million of South Africa's 34 million sheep so far this summer. It is the worst outbreak of the disease in the union's history. Farmers are hoping for an early winter—in the Southern Hemisphere it parallels summer in northern latitudes—to kill the mosquitoes and midges which spread the ailment.

To Cut Broadcasts, Fire 830 From Jobs

Washington, April 23 (AP)—A proposed $10,600,000 cutback in the nation's cold war propaganda program and a State Department move to shed the whole operation drew some skeptical study today on Capitol Hill.

Dr. Robert L. Johnson, new boss of the International Information Administration which runs the program for the State Department, announced the economy cutback yesterday and said it would involve:

1. Firing 830 present employes and abolishing 167 other jobs now vacant.

2. A sharp reduction in "Voice of America" broadcasts, except to Iron Curtain areas and a few others deemed "critical."

He estimated the dollar savings "would be about 10 per cent" but gave no specific figures.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee before which Johnson disclosed the plan, said later he expects a further report from Johnson "on the statistical reasons for his belief that we can do this thing without harm to the program."

Johnson told the subcommittee Secretary of State Dulles himself endorses the idea that the information agency should be divorced from the State Department.

Mother Feeds Poison To Babes; Two Die

New York, April 23 (AP)—A 21-year-old mother mixed rat poison in a pot of chicken rice soup and deliberately spoon fed the concoction to her three small children and then drank some herself police said today.

Two of the babies died. The third child and the mother, Mrs. Hilda Acevedo of Manhattan, were in serious condition.

The poison was administered last night. An hour later Mrs. Acevedo's husband, Anthony, 51-year-old building superintendent, returned home to find things apparently normal.

But during the night, he told police, his wife awakened him and told him what had happened. Early today Dennis, 2½ months, and Milton, 16 months, died. Betty, 2½ years old, was dangerously ill.

Police quoted Mrs. Acevedo as saying she was despondent and disgusted" over the family's finances. But the husband was quoted by officers as saying his drinking habits worried her.

Mrs. Acevedo was booked by telephone on a charge of homicide and was placed under police guard at Knickerbocker Hospital.

New York, April 23 (AP)—Daylight Saving Time begins this weekend for millions of Americans, but the majority of the states still adhere to Standard Time. On Saturday night the hands of myriad clocks will be pushed ahead one hour to take advantage of the longer duration of sunlight in the summer months.

FRANCE SHUNS INDUSTRIALISM

The French people may only dimly perceive it, but in the eyes of other western nations they have arrived at a crucial crossroads in their history.

By any strict measure, France is not a great industrial nation nor a first-rank military power. Yet the French are desperately fighting to maintain the posture of a great power.

Almost petulantly, they are demanding of other free countries that France be accorded the influence of a great nation, though they are not demonstrating it has the substance.

This dream world cannot endure. Either the French must develop the substance of greatness, or they must expect to see their world influence drop off until it more nearly matches their present moderate power.

Many students of modern France concur in this: The French never really embraced the industrial revolution.

In many ways, French industry and agriculture are antiquated. The French economy is saddled with incredible numbers of middlemen who add to the price of goods without performing much useful service. Labor unions block technical progress.

The French evidently were happiest as an artisan people. Their Golden Age was the 19th century, before the harsh intrusion of the machine interrupted the sunny felicity of French living. They appear to resent all that has happened since. They dwell longingly upon the past; their faces are turned toward it.

Yet the circumstances of history cast the French in a powerful role on the world stage, until World War I devastated their lands and sapped their manpower. Somehow, though, the illusion of strength remained. Only when the Nazis poured through the Sedan gap in World War II did the world come to realize how weakly founded was French power.

Since that conflict ended, the French have clung hard to the outward signs and symbols of their former position. America and the other free lands have generously encouraged French influence in high councils in the hope of setting France on the path to greater strength.

But, fundamentally, the problem has not changed in 80 years. The French still are not acting to make themselves a truly modern industrial power. They go on savoring the past, striving for the simple life of pleasure in a world apart from clanking machines and grimy soot.

Cold reality is chilling the warmth of this life today. France's truest friends, America and Britain, are not so eager to lend aid any more; they have watched the French put off their test too long. Germany, hated and feared, has risen from war to new strength and once again casts the French in shadow.

No longer can they muster the power that goes with independent might. Their only hope of solid greatness lies in partnership with all the free lands, including Germany itself.

If the French now shrink from this, if they shrink again at this late hour from the industrialism they have shunned, they may wake one day not far distant to see that their image on the world canvas has shriveled as an old orange dries and cracks. The reckoning for France cannot be put aside forever.

Many a man fancies himself to be in top muscular condition. He'll know better than to pursue such childish thoughts as soon as he gets out in the garden.

A scientist from Brandeis University asserts that temperature changes are affected by the moon. Young couples in love have known the same thing for centuries.

Spring cleaning time is about to burst upon the housewife again. It is one thing that certainly makes the calendar flip its pages over in a hurry. It's a little like toothpulling; dreadful to face, a nuisance to undergo but oh, what a joy when it's over.

Rudolph Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company, said recently that unless the public responds to a plea for funds there may be no Metropolitan Opera season next year. Production costs are constantly raising and the need for new equipment grows more acute each year.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE POWER OF THE PURSE

The Constitution clearly vests the power of the purse in Congress. Section 7 of Article I states:

"All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills."

Section 8 of Article I states:

"The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises. . . ."

Section 9 of Article I states:

"No money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law. . . ."

In recent years, Congress has tended to delegate the initiation of these powers to the Executive, which Congress now resents as the question arises whether it shall place a limitation upon government spending so that taxes may be cut. Great Britain, Canada, France, Italy and Israel expect to cut taxes this year, but every effort by Congress to place a ceiling on Federal expenditures encounters resistance on the part of the Executive especially with regard to H.R. 2 introduced by Representative Frederic R. Coudert, Jr.

Governor Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts said:

"Ten years spent here in Congress taught me one lesson so well, and gave me one warning so imperatively that I shall not forget either:

"The lesson was that unless Congress maintains rigid control over the spending agencies of the Federal Government we may one day find ourselves facing a national crisis of the first magnitude; and the warning was that Congress has lost such control. I believe that nothig more important can be done at this session than to regain it. . . ."

The position of the Administration is that while its target is to balance the budget, it rejects the concept of Congress doing it. Concerning this Representative George Meader said in a committee hearing:

"But here we have a carry-over of 81 billion dollars of carry-over funds which faces us on July 1st of this year, and if we appropriate the Truman budget there will be 72 billion dollars more—in other words, 150 billion dollars, roughly—more than 150 billion dollars—which conceivably could be spent all in fiscal 1954 by the Administration, if they could mechanically get rid of the money that fast."

Mr. Arthur B. Focke, Legal Adviser, Bureau of the Budget, replied:

". . . Expenditures can be controlled by the Bureau of the Budget controlling obligations under the Anti-Deficiency Act. That is, under the 150 (billion) dollars which Mr. Meader points out which would be available for obligation in the fiscal year 1954, if the entire Truman budget were adopted or were appropriated, it can only be obligated as the Bureau of the Budget apportions it to the agencies for obligation. By reducing the amount of it that would actually be available to the agencies for obligation, they would to some extent control the expenditures that the agencies could make.

"The Chairman (Clare Hoffman). But that is no law. That is the exercise of the discretion of those who are in the Bureau of the Budget controlling the amount to be spent, isn't it?"

And no matter how Mr. Focke tried to squirm out of it, his testimony stands that while he objected to the legally elected representatives of the people passing a law in accordance with the Constitution limiting government spending, he held that an appointed group of men, in the Bureau of the Budget, operating in administrative secrecy, could at their discretion do precisely what he objected to Congress doing. He actually said:

". . . I was only trying to answer your question as to whether there was any legal limitation, and I said it was a legal limitation in the sense that if, in the discretion of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, he places such a limitation, the agencies would legally be bound by it."

The chairman of the committee, Clare Hoffman of Michigan, finding no logic in this proposition, could not help asking:

"Then what objection do you have to letting us do it? Is it a matter of pride, or what?"

This long hearing only proves one point: too much of the Government of the United States is still in the hands of bureaucrats who reject the functions of Congress as they do the clear stipulations of the Constitution.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

GOITER SYMPTOMS AFTER OPERATION

It is known that in cases of the severe form of goiter, removal by surgery gives satisfactory results almost immediately. Removal by X-ray, while giving satisfactory results, may take as long as nine months or longer, to get these satisfactory results.

Up to 1933, the removal by surgery, the operation known as subtotal removal of the thyroid gland (that is, less than the total or whole gland was removed), a small portion of each side of gland being left in to prevent the symptoms resulting from removal of the whole gland (overweight, mental and physical sluggishness) occurring.

However, it was found in a number of cases that not enough of the thyroid gland was removed and so the usual symptoms of severe goiter (fast heart, underweight, nervousness) again returned.

In the Missouri State Medical Journal, St. Louis, Dr. W. Bartlett states that when portions of the gland of each lobe, varying one-eighth to one-third, were left behind, the return of the goiter symptoms occurred.

In 1,100 operations performed before 1933, the failure rate was between 5 and 10 per cent and so Dr. Bartlett abandoned the partial removal operation in favor of an operation in which just 1 gram or less of goitrous tissue is left in each lobe. This amount of goitrous tissue is about the smallest that can be left in place without return of the goiter symptoms.

However, to make sure that enough thyroid substance is present to make up for any loss, thyroid extract is given for some time after operation; in fact, in "exceptional" cases, thyroid extract must be given for the rest of the patient's life.

Dr. Bartlett reports that occasional failures to cure the severe type of goiter (hyperthyroidism) have occurred in the nearly twenty years that have elapsed since this change in treatment, but in each of these cases there has been an error in estimating the amount of thyroid gland to be removed according to the symptoms present.

"Radical subtotal (not whole gland) thyroidectomy, as carried out by Dr. Bartlett since 1933 will produce virually complete and permanent cure of hyperthyroidism."

To get rid of the symptoms of the severe type of goiter, the gland (or nearly all of it) must be removed. Fortunately, if too much is removed, the use of 1 or more grains of thyroid extract given daily by mouth supplies enough thyroid extract to keep body processes working at a normal rate.

Posing for Their Golden Anniversary Picture

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — It is common practice to speak of a congressman as though he were a particular species of individual. Anyone given an assignment to describe an average congressman, however, would find the job difficult.

The outstanding characteristic of a congressman is his ability to get elected to public office. Time after time. While the Senate is supposed to be the senior branch of Congress, there are really more old-timers in the lower House of Representatives.

Only two senators in the present 83rd Congress have served more than 25 years. But there are seven congressmen who have been in the House for more than 30 years and 21 more who have been here between 20 and 30 years. Only 78, or a little over 15 per cent of the members of the present House are first termers.

Your average congressman, therefore, is someone who has been around for from two to 10 terms and knows the ropes. Contrary to popular belief, the casualties in the political lives of congressmen are not high, despite the fact that they have to run for reelection every two years.

When congressmen write about themselves as they do in the short autobiographical sketches appearing in the congressional directory, two things are noticeable.

The first is that congressmen are proud of their war records. There are some brilliant war records among the congressmen, too. There are four Spanish-American War vets, three who saw service on the Mexican border, 119 in World War I, 119 in World War II and two from Korea—Holt of California and Sieminski of New Jersey.

Being Vet Doesn't Hurt

Representative Teague of Texas boasts of 11 decorations. Reese of Tennessee and Kean of New Jersey hold the DSC. There are five Legion of Merits, 10 Silver Stars, 14 Bronze Stars and at least seven Purple Hearts. Four congressmen were in Office of Strategic Services. Being a vet, then, doesn't hurt anyone who wants to run for Congress.

The second thing that congressmen like to emphasize about their records is how much they are interested in farming, or ranching, or oil development, or whatever happens to be the big business of their constituents. A congressman can talk about his district without end, because it's the most important thing on earth—to him.

When it comes to an occupational classification of the members of the House, 244 of the 435 are found to be lawyers. This is 55 per cent of the total, or almost exactly the same percentage as found in the Senate.

The next largest group is the businessmen. In the present House they number 82, or 18 per cent of the total. This includes merchants, bankers, publishers, real estate and insurance men. This is approximately the same ratio of businessmen as has been logged in recent sessions of the Senate.

Farmers number 38 in this House, which is an increase of about a third over 10 years ago. Teachers and professors number 22, a slight increase over previous Houses.

Ex-FBI Men in Congress

There are six doctors in this House—about the average number—and one dentist. Also a minister and a funeral director.

Five of this session's congressmen are ex-FBI men. They are Hunter of California, Dodd of Connecticut, Velde of Illinois, Edmondson of Oklahoma and Burleson of Texas. This is something of a postwar development in Congress. It is brought on, no doubt, by the rising interest in anti-communism and the belief that an ex-G-man has qualifications for coping with this problem.

When it comes to miscellaneous occupations of congressmen, there is the usual variety found in any cross-section of Americans.

Sikes of Florida is the champion joiner, belonging to 19 fraternal orders. Haley of Florida is a former president of Ringling Bros circus and married one of the Ringling sisters.

O'Hara of Illinois boasts that he obtained seven acquittals in a row in murder trials. Kelley of Pennsylvania and Rabaut of Michigan have fathered the most children—nine apiece.

Young of Nevada belongs to the Society of American Magicians, and Congress could no doubt use a few more miracle workers. Westland of Washington won the National Amateur Golf Championship.

About two-thirds of the congressmen are college graduates, indicating that an education may help, but isn't absolutely necessary for anyone making a career of politics.

Last but far from least, 10 of this year's congressmen are congresswomen.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Left-Wing Papers Ignore Smear Against United States Senator Bridges

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 23—This is the story of a smear of a United States senator which seems to have been overlooked by the "left wingers" who are constantly crying out that innocent persons are victimized by congressional committees. For here is a case which the organs of the "left wing" have not seen fit to handle fairly or to denounce or even to inquire into in order to get all the facts.

A few days ago the newspapers carried headlines saying Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, Republican, had been "linked" to an investigation of a federal judge. The statement was widely published that Mr. Bridges had recommended to Lowell Mayberry, a Boston lawyer, that Henry Grunewald be employed by John L. Lewis and the miners' union to investigate the late Judge Goldsborough. These same dispatches contained references to Mr. Bridges as a trustee of the United Mine Workers' pension fund and the inference was plain that the New Hampshire senator was an associate of Mr. Lewis and also a participant in the process by which a federal judge, who had pending before him a case involving the United Mine Workers, was investigated.

What are the facts?

First of all, Senator Bridges has stated flatly that he did not recommend Grunewald to the Mine Workers' attorney, Mr. Mayberry, and had no connection at all with the investigation of the judge.

Second, the New Hampshire senator was not appointed a trustee of the United Mine Workers' pension fund until 1948. The contempt case involving the miners' union and the inquiry into Judge Goldsborough's life had been disposed of two years before. Senator Bridges states that he had only a nodding acquaintance with Mr. Lewis in 1946 when the case was up before Judge Goldsborough.

It would have been easy enough to establish these facts if the "left wing" organs which pontificate so frequently about alleged injury to innocent persons had chosen to verify them. It so happens that Mr. Mayberry himself has testified under oath before the House Judiciary Investigating Committee corroborating the statement of Senator Bridges that the senator did not introduce Grunewald to John L. Lewis. Mayberry testified he knew Grunewald at least a year and a half before the mine workers case arose.

Grunewald was well known in labor circles as an investigator. Not only had he done work previously for some AFL Unions, but the attorney for Mr. Lewis knew of his work.

Now it often happens that newspapers cannot reach persons on the same day they figure in controversies in the news. The critics who have arisen recently to charge newspapers with "one-sidedness" by pointing to omissions in particular issues of newspapers simply do not know or they ignore the pressures of time under which news is gathered, so that conceivably all sides of a controversy of this kind are not available in the same 24 hours. Newspapers, therefore, cannot be blamed for printing the fact that Grunewald had mentioned in his testimony that, according to his recollection—which has since been proved faulty—the New Hampshire senator had introduced him to the lawyer for the Miners' Union.

Once the news about the opposite testimony before the House committee came out, what steps were taken to put Senator Bridges in the right light before the country? Even if Senator Bridges had recommended Grunewald as an investigator, why was that phase emphasized and almost no criticism visited upon John L. Lewis for conducting the investigation of a judge before whom he and his union had a case pending at that time? For, certainly if it was wrong to recommend an investigator, it must have been even more of an impropriety for the head of a union to hire an investigator to carry on an inquiry about the life of a judge on the federal bench while the union had a case pending before that judge. One has yet to read in the "left wing" press a demand that this phase of the episode be comprehensively explained.

The federal judge is dead. The case is closed, and maybe the congressional committee now considers the whole thing irrelevant, but not so the "left wing" organs which are out to get every United States senator who has shown himself hostile to Communists in government. Mr. Bridges is chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee and an important man in the Republican party today. He had steadfastly fought communistic influences in government.

The "left wingers" also have exposed their hypocrisy in making innuendoes about alleged irregularities in Senator McCarthy's income tax returns. They know full well that, if there had been anything on which he could have been prosecuted, the Truman administration would have filed a case against him in court long ago. This outcry about "injury" to innocent persons all depends evidently on whose ox is gored.

Leading Firms Back Business Confidence With Millions

By SAM DAWSON

New York, April 23—Confidence in the business future is expressed today by many leading companies—and it is being backed up by cash.

Stockholders are being told that as much or more of the corporation's money is to be spent this year for expansion of plants and upgrading of equipment.

The management of these firms is showing a much more healthy fear of their competitors than they are of the bogey of a peacetime slump.

General Electric stockholders were told yesterday the firm expects to spend 500 million dollars on expansion in the next three years to meet management's estimate of the needs of a growing civilian economy.

Jersey Standard Oil stockholders have been told the oil giant plans to spend a record 600 million dollars this year on growth and equipment.

Union Carbide & Carbon stockholders heard yesterday—without a murmur—the chemical firm will spend at least as much, perhaps more, as the 151-million dollar outlay last year on metal and plastic producing plants.

26 Million Clip

Keener competition in the rubber business may be reflected in expansion plans there. U. S. Rubber management says growth and modernization will be continued this year at the 26 million dollar clip set last year. B. F. Goodrich stockholders are told of plans to spend "materially more" than 22 million dollars invested in 1952.

The Ford Motor Co. is reported planning to build another engine plant in Cleveland for around 60 million dollars.

Sylvania Electric Products president, Don G. Mitchell, warns a St. Louis business group against curtailing operations through fear of a peacetime slump.

On the general industrial building picture, the U. S. Department of Commerce reports that plant and equipment expenditure totals increased somewhat in the first three months of this year and that the trend shows signs of continuing.

Public Keeps Buying

The department also takes a cautiously optimistic view of the business inventory situation. With consumer buying booming right along in April, the rate at which business had been accumulating inventories has slowed down. This means that most of the record high output of goods has been absorbed by the public and businessmen's stocks are still within the normal ratio to sales and no threat as long as buying continues high.

A truce might help some lines to sell better, some businessmen hold. Those in the luxury trades have nothing to fear from peace, according to an executive of Seagram Distillers Corp. He told a sales meeting in Houston yesterday:

More Money Than Ever

"The people of this country have more money today than ever before. The nation's industries are equipped to produce everything the consumers of this country want. The consumers are ready to buy if goods are properly merchandised to them."

A philosophical view of the peace talk jitters that hit some segments of the business world, notably the stock market, was taken by Louis S. Cates, chairman of Phelps Dodge. He told stockholders of the copper company that some experts were talking of a let-down later this year, but added: "I would say that a let-down, should it occur, is not to be feared so much as its over-emphasis."

Attila Movie Planned

Manila (AP)—Manuel Conde, Filipino film producer, director and actor, has been hired by an Italian movie company to make a Philippine-Italian film. He is to coproduce, co-write, direct and star in "Attila, the Hun," a color world-release picture to be filmed in Italy, France, Germany and Spain with an international cast. Conde first became known among world movie-makers when he attended last year's Venice film festival where his Philippine-made movie, "Genghis Khan," won acclaims.

FRANCE SHUNS INDUSTRIALISM

The French people may only dimly perceive it, but in the eyes of other western nations they have arrived at a crucial crossroads in their history.

By any strict measure, France is not a great industrial nation nor a first-rank military power. Yet the French are desperately fighting to maintain the posture of a great power.

Almost petulantly, they are demanding of other free countries that France be accorded the influence of a great nation, though they are not demonstrating it has the substance.

This dream world cannot endure. Either the French must develop the substance of greatness, or they must expect to see their world influence drop off until it more nearly matches their present moderate power.

Many students of modern France concur in this: The French never really embraced the industrial revolution.

In many ways, French industry and agriculture are antiquated. The French economy is saddled with incredible numbers of middlemen who add to the price of goods without performing much useful service. Labor unions block technical progress.

The French evidently were happiest as an artisan people. Their Golden Age was the 19th century, before the harsh intrusion of the machine interrupted the sunny felicity of French living. They appear to resent all that has happened since. They dwell longingly upon the past; their faces are turned toward it.

Yet the circumstances of history cast the French in a powerful role on the world stage, until World War I devastated their lands and sapped their manpower. Somehow, though, the illusion of strength remained. Only when the Nazis poured through the Sedan gap in World War II did the world come to realize how weakly founded was French power.

Since that conflict ended, the French have clung hard to the outward signs and symbols of their former position. America and the other free lands have generously encouraged French influence in high councils in the hope of setting France on the path to greater strength.

But, fundamentally, the problem has not changed in 80 years. The French still are not acting to make themselves a truly modern industrial power. They go on savoring the past, striving for the simple life of pleasure in a world apart from clanking machines and grimy soot.

Cold reality is chilling the warmth of this life today. France's truest friends, America and Britain, are not so eager to lend aid any more; they have watched the French put off their test too long. Germany, hated and feared, has risen from war to new strength and once again casts the French in shadow.

No longer can they muster the power that goes with independent might. Their only hope of solid greatness lies in partnership with all the free lands, including Germany itself.

If the French now shrink from this, if they shrink again at this late hour from the industrialism they have shunned, they may wake one day not far distant to see that their image on the world canvas has shriveled as an old orange dries and cracks. The reckoning for France cannot be put aside forever.

Many a man fancies himself to be in top muscular condition. He'll know better than to pursue such childish thoughts as soon as he gets out in the garden.

A scientist from Brandeis University asserts that temperature changes are affected by the moon. Young couples in love have known the same thing for centuries.

Spring cleaning time is about to burst upon the housewife again. It is one thing that certainly makes the calendar flip its pages over in a hurry. It's a little like toothpulling; dreadful to face, a nuisance to undergo but oh, what a joy when it's over.

Rudolph Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company, said recently that unless the public responds to a plea for funds there may be no Metropolitan Opera season next year. Production costs are constantly raising and the need for new equipment grows more acute each year.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE POWER OF THE PURSE

The Constitution clearly vests the power of the purse in Congress. Section 7 of Article I states:

"All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills."

Section 8 of Article I states:

"The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises. . . ."

Section 9 of Article I states:

"No money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law. . . ."

In recent years, Congress has tended to delegate the initiation of these powers to the Executive, which Congress now resents as the question arises whether it shall place a limitation upon government spending so that taxes may be cut. Great Britain, Canada, France, Italy and Israel expect to cut taxes this year, but every effort by Congress to place a ceiling on Federal expenditures encounters resistance on the part of the Executive, especially with regard to H.R. 2 introduced by Representative Frederic R. Coudert, Jr.

Governor Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts said:

"Ten years spent here in Congress taught me one lesson so well, and gave me one warning so imperatively that I shall not forget either:

"The lesson was that unless Congress maintains rigid control over the spending agencies of the Federal Government we may one day find ourselves facing a national crisis of the first magnitude; and the warning was that Congress has lost such control. I believe that nothig more important can be done at this session than to regain it. . . ."

The position of the Administration is that while its target is to balance the budget, it rejects the concept of Congress doing it. Concerning this Representative George Meader said in a committee hearing:

"But here we have a carry-over of 81 billion dollars of carry-over funds which faces us on July 1st of this year, and if we appropriate the Truman budget there will be 72 billion dollars more—in other words, 150 billion dollars, roughly—more than 150 billion dollars—which conceivably could be spent all in fiscal 1954 by the Administration, if they could mechanically get rid of the money that fast."

Mr. Arthur B. Focke, Legal Adviser, Bureau of the Budget, replied:

". . . Expenditures can be controlled by the Bureau of the Budget controlling obligations under the Anti-Deficiency Act. That is, under the 150 (billion) dollars which Mr. Meader points out which would be available for obligation in the fiscal year 1954, if the entire Truman budget were adopted or were appropriated, it can only be obligated as the Bureau of the Budget apportions it to the agencies for obligation. By reducing the amount of it that would actually be available to the agencies for obligation, they would to some extent control the expenditures that the agencies could make.

"The Chairman (Clare Hoffman). But that is no law. That is the exercise of the discretion of those who are in the Bureau of the Budget controlling the amount to be spent, isn't it?"

And no matter how Mr. Focke tried to squirm out of it, his testimony stands that while he objected to the legally elected representatives of the people passing a law in accordance with the Constitution limiting government spending, he held that an appointed group of men, in the Bureau of the Budget, operating in administrative secrecy, could at their discretion do precisely what he objected to Congress doing. He actually said:

". . . I was only trying to answer your question as to whether there was any legal limitation, and I said it was a legal limitation in the sense that if, in the discretion of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget, he places such a limitation, the agencies would legally be bound by it."

The chairman of the committee, Clare Hoffman of Michigan, finding no logic in this proposition, could not help asking:

"Then what objection do you have to letting us do it? Is it a matter of pride, or what?"

This long hearing only proves one point: too much of the Government of the United States is still in the hands of bureaucrats who reject the functions of Congress as they do the clear stipulations of the Constitution.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

GOITER SYMPTOMS AFTER OPERATION

It is known that in cases of the severe form of goiter, removal by surgery gives satisfactory results almost immediately. Removal by X-ray, while giving satisfactory results, may take as long as nine months or longer, to get these satisfactory results.

Up to 1933, the removal by surgery, the operation known as subtotal removal of the thyroid gland (that is, less than the total or whole gland was removed), a small portion of each side of gland being left in to prevent the symptoms resulting from removal of the whole gland (overweight, mental and physical sluggishness) occurring.

However, it was found in a number of cases that not enough of the thyroid gland was removed and so the usual symptoms of severe goiter (fast heart, underweight, nervousness) again returned.

In the Missouri State Medical Journal, St. Louis, Dr. W. Bartlett states that when portions of the gland of each lobe, varying one-eighth to one-third, were left behind, the return of the goiter symptoms occurred.

In 1,100 operations performed before 1933, the failure rate was between 5 and 10 per cent and so Dr. Bartlett abandoned the partial removal operation in favor of an operation in which just 1 gram or less of goitrous tissue is left in each lobe. This amount of goitrous tissue is about the smallest that can be left in place without return of the goiter symptoms.

However, to make sure that enough thyroid substance is present to make up for any loss, thyroid extract is given for some time after operation; in fact, in "exceptional" cases, thyroid extract must be given for the rest of the patient's life.

Dr. Bartlett reports that occasional failures to cure the severe type of goiter (hyperthyroidism) have occurred in the nearly twenty years that have elapsed since this change in treatment, but in each of these cases there has been an error in estimating the amount of thyroid gland to be removed according to the symptoms present.

"Radical subtotal (not whole gland) thyroidectomy, as carried out by Dr. Bartlett since 1933 will produce virually complete and permanent cure of hyperthyroidism."

To get rid of the symptoms of the severe type of goiter, the gland (or nearly all of it) must be removed. Fortunately, if too much is removed, the use of 1 or more grains of thyroid extract given daily by mouth supplies enough thyroid extract to keep body processes working at a normal rate.

Posing for Their Golden Anniversary Picture

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — It is common practice to speak of a congressman as though he were a particular species of individual. Anyone given an assignment to describe an average congressman, however, would find the job difficult.

The outstanding characteristic of a congressman is his ability to get elected to public office. Time after time. While the Senate is supposed to be the senior branch of Congress, there are really more old-timers in the lower House of Representatives.

Only two senators in the present 83rd Congress have served more than 25 years. But there are seven congressmen who have been in the House for more than 30 years and 21 more who have been here between 20 and 30 years. Only 78, or a little over 15 per cent of the members of the present House are first termers.

Your average congressman, therefore, is someone who has been around for from two to 10 terms and knows the ropes. Contrary to popular belief, the casualties in the political lives of congressmen are not high, despite the fact that they have to run for re-election every two years.

When congressmen write about themselves as they do in the short autobiographical sketches appearing in the congressional directory, two things are noticeable.

The first is that congressmen are proud of their war records. There are some brilliant war records among the congressmen, too. There are four Spanish-American War vets, three who saw service on the Mexican border, 119 in World War I, 119 in World War II and two from Korea—Holt of California and Sieminski of New Jersey.

Being Vet Doesn't Hurt

Representative Teague of Texas boasts of 11 decorations. Reese of Tennessee and Kean of New Jersey hold the DSC. There are five Legion of Merits, 10 Silver Stars, 14 Bronze Stars and at least seven Purple Hearts. Four congressmen were in Office of Strategic Services. Being a vet, then, doesn't hurt anyone who wants to run for Congress.

The second thing that congressmen like to emphasize about their records is how much they are interested in farming, or ranching, or oil development, or whatever happens to be the big business of their constituents. A congressman can talk about his district without end, because it's the most important thing on earth—to him.

When it comes to an occupational classification of the members of the House, 244 of the 435 are found to be lawyers. This is 55 per cent of the total, or almost exactly the same percentage as found in the Senate.

The next largest group is the businessmen. In the present House they number 82, or 18 per cent of the total. This includes merchants, bankers, publishers, real estate and insurance men. This is approximately the same ratio of businessmen as has been logged in recent sessions of the Senate.

Farmers number 38 in this House, which is an increase of about a third over 10 years ago. Teachers and professors number 22, a slight increase over previous Houses.

Ex-FBI Men in Congress

There are six doctors in this House—about the average number—and one dentist. Also a minister and a funeral director.

Five of this session's congressmen are ex-FBI men. They are Hunter of California, Dodd of Connecticut, Velde of Illinois, Edmondson of Oklahoma and Burleson of Texas. This is something of a postwar development in Congress. It is brought on, no doubt, by the rising interest in anti-communism and the belief that an ex-G-man has qualifications for coping with this problem.

When it comes to miscellaneous occupations of congressmen, there is the usual variety found in any cross-section of Americans.

Sikes of Florida is the champion joiner, belonging to 19 fraternal orders. Haley of Florida is a former president of Ringling Bros circus and married one of the Ringling sisters.

O'Hara of Illinois boasts that he obtained seven acquittals in a row in murder trials. Kelley of Pennsylvania and Rabaut of Michigan have fathered the most children—nine apiece.

Young of Nevada belongs to the Society of American Magicians, and Congress could no doubt use a few more miracle workers. Westland of Washington won the National Amateur Golf Championship.

About two-thirds of the congressmen are college graduates, indicating that an education may help, but isn't absolutely necessary for anyone making a career of politics.

Last but far from least, 10 of this year's congressmen are congresswomen.

Lewis for conducting the investigation of a judge before whom he and his union had a case pending at that time? For, certainly if it was wrong to recommend an investigator, it must have been even more of an impropriety for the head of a union to hire an investigator to carry on an inquiry about the life of a judge on the federal bench while the union had a case pending before that judge. One has yet to read in the "left wing" press a demand that this phase of the episode be comprehensively explained.

The federal judge is dead. The case is closed, and maybe the congressional committee now considers the whole thing irrelevant, but not so the "left wing" organs which are out to get every United States senator who has shown himself hostile to Communists in government. Mr. Bridges is chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee and an important man in the Republican party today. He had steadfastly fought communistic influences in government.

The "left wingers" also have exposed their hypocrisy in making innuendoes about alleged irregularities in Senator McCarthy's income tax returns. They know full well that, if there had been anything on which he could have been prosecuted, the Truman administration would have filed a case against him in court long ago. This outcry about "injury" to innocent persons all depends evidently on whose ox is gored.

Leading Firms Back Business Confidence With Millions

By SAM DAWSON

New York, April 23—Confidence in the business future is expressed today by many leading companies—and it is being backed up by cash.

Stockholders are being told that as much or more of the corporation's money is to be spent this year for expansion of plants and upgrading of equipment.

The management of these firms is showing a much more healthy fear of their competitors than they are of the bogey of a peacetime slump.

General Electric stockholders were told yesterday the firm expects to spend 500 million dollars on expansion in the next three years to meet management's estimate of the needs of a growing civilian economy.

Jersey Standard Oil stockholders have been told the oil giant plans to spend a record 600 million dollars this year on growth and equipment.

Union Carbide & Carbon stockholders heard yesterday—without a murmur—the chemical firm will spend at least as much, perhaps more, as the 151-million dollar outlay last year on metal and plastic producing plants.

26 Million Clip

Keener competition in the rubber business may be reflected in expansion plans there. U. S. Rubber management says growth and modernization will be continued this year at the 26 million dollar clip set last year. B. F. Goodrich stockholders are told of plans to spend "materially more" than 22 million dollars invested in 1952.

The Ford Motor Co. is reported planning to build another engine plant in Cleveland for around 60 million dollars.

Sylvania Electric Products president, Don G. Mitchell, warns a St. Louis business group against curtailing operations through fear of a peacetime slump.

On the general industrial building picture, the U. S. Department of Commerce reports that plant and equipment expenditure totals increased somewhat in the first three months of this year and that the trend shows signs of continuing.

Public Keeps Buying

The department also takes a cautiously optimistic view of the business inventory situation. With consumer buying booming right along in April, the rate at which business had been accumulating inventories has slowed down. This means that most of the record high output of goods has been absorbed by the public and businessmen's stocks are still within the normal ratio to sales and no threat as long as buying continues high.

A truce might help some lines to sell better, some businessmen hold. Those in the luxury trades have nothing to fear from peace, according to an executive of Seagram Distillers Corp. He told a sales meeting in Houston yesterday:

More Money Than Ever

"The people of this country have more money today than ever before. The nation's industries are equipped to produce everything the consumers of this country want. The consumers are ready to buy if goods are properly merchandised to them."

A philosophical view of the peace talk jitters that hit some segments of the business world, notably the stock market, was taken by Louis S. Cates, chairman of Phelps Dodge. He told stockholders of the copper company that some experts were talking of a let-down later this year, but added: "I would say that a let-down, should it occur, is not to be feared so much as its over-emphasis."

Attila Movie Planned

Manila (AP)—Manuel Conde, Filipino film producer, director and actor, has been hired by an Italian movie company to make a Philippine-Italian film. He is to co-produce, co-write, direct and star in "Attila, the Hun," a color world-release picture to be filmed in Italy, France, Germany and Spain with an international cast. Conde first became known among world movie-makers when he attended last year's Venice film festival where his Philippine-made movie, "Genghis Khan," won acclaims.

Strange Bid Takes Place at Tourney

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

The bidding in today's hand may seem a little peculiar, but I report it exactly as it took place in the recent Atlantic City Tournament. East opened with three clubs despite the fact that his hand was probably good for only five tricks.

Eli Jaye, who won the Open Pair event with Norman Kay, came in with a vulnerable overcall of three diamonds despite the fact that his hand was probably worth only five or six playing tricks.

Norman Kay, holding the North cards, had no way of realizing that his partner had made so aggressive a bid. He thought that his partner had a better hand, and he expected the combined cards to produce a slam. He therefore made two slam tries and then went on to slam even though South made minimum responses both times.

West opened the seven of clubs, and Jaye decided immediately that this was a singleton. East could not have opened the bidding with a three bid on less than a six-card suit. The slam could be made if declarer could discard one of his losing clubs on one of dummy's hearts and the other on one of dummy's spades.

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the ace of clubs, drew three rounds of trumps, and led the jack of hearts towards dummy. West covered with the queen, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer next led a low heart from dummy, playing the nine from his own hand to force out West's king.

West promptly returned the deuce of hearts, and declarer had to make his decision at once. It was apparent that East had started the hand with six clubs and three trumps. It seemed reasonable to expect that East's eight of hearts on the second round of that suit had been an "honest" card. Jaye therefore finessed dummy's six of hearts.

The finesse held, and declarer could therefore discard one losing club on the ten of hearts and the other on dummy's extra spade.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED AT A MEETING OF THE KINGSTON KIWANIS CLUB ON APRIL 9, 1953

For many years the late John T. Loughran was not only Kingston's most illustrious citizen but also was an honorary member of the Kingston Kiwanis Club.

On several occasions he was the speaker at our noonday luncheon and his incisive insight and keen wit were a revelation to us all.

His death has evoked a unique sense of loss which has been felt by all our citizens from one end of our city to the other. Never within our memory has the death of a leading citizen aroused such a complete and overwhelming sentiment of regret that a career was ended.

We revere the memory of a man who brought honor and distinction to our community.

We respect the rare intellectual attainments of a man who rose to preeminence in his profession by virtue of his own capacities and true merit.

We pay tribute to his dedication to duty and to the long and lonely hours devoted by him to his scholarly pursuits.

We find consolation that our distinguished fellow citizen was a man of strong mind, of great heart, of deep moral and religious faith, of unquestionable honor, who lived above the fog in public duty and private thinking.

We think of his greatness, however, not merely in his accomplishments but also in his deep and humble humanity. He was the friendly neighbor who walked our streets with a sincere greeting for us all whether we were of high or low estate. His warm and gracious smile and cheery salutation was a delight to all of our citizens. The high honors that came to Judge Loughran never diminished his love for his fellow men and his fellow men were enriched by knowing him.

We regret that his inevitable hour has struck. We rejoice that he walked among us. We ourselves can be better men, and better citizens, by contemplating the qualities that he possessed and for which we shall remember him throughout our own mortal days.

We, who have been appointed by the president of our club as a Committee on Resolutions, move the adoption of this Resolution and that the same be spread on the minutes of this meeting and that the secretary transmit a copy to the son of Judge Loughran and publish a copy in the Kingston Daily Freeman.

12 Organizations Are Asked to Sign as Fronts

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Twelve organizations frequently in the news as left-wingers today got notice that Atty. Gen. Brownell wants them to register as "other-name fronts" for communism in the U. S.

The attorney general invoked the 1950 Internal Security Act to demand the registrations, proceeding through the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Noting that the control board last Monday entered an order requiring the American Communist Party to register as a Soviet-directed organization, Brownell asked for similar orders against the dozen groups he described as puppets for the party.

He was reported to have in preparation additional petitions covering possibly as many as 13 other alleged front organizations.

The petitions filed with the board late yesterday included such names as the Labor Youth League, successor to the Young Communist League, the International Workers Order, Inc.; the Civil Rights Congress; the American Committee for Protection of the Foreign Board; the Jefferson School of Social Science at New York city, and the Veterans of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, which fought with the Communists against Franco in Spain's civil war of 1936-37.

Italian Film Pay Revealed

Rome (AP)—Salaries of Italian movie stars are modest by Hollywood standards, but they compare pretty well after taxes. Italy's two greatest draws—Anna Magnani and Gina Lollobrigida — receive $64,000 a picture. That's one-third what a top U. S. star could draw. Salary figures, a closely guarded secret in Hollywood, were released by the Italian Films Export board—much to the displeasure of the Italian stars and their agents. Italian stars pay few taxes. A good guess is an Italian star pays about 15 per cent to the government. A top American star would be giving Uncle Sam five times that much.

Why We Say--

. . . Improper name

This name was originally applied by an English magistrate to the members of the religious sect known as the Society of Friends. George Fox, the founder, admonished the magistrate to tremble (or quake) at the mention of the name of the Lord.

Numbers for U. S. highways are even for east-west and odd for north-south routes.

Valuable Coins

The 1894 "S" mint dime, and the 1913 Liberty Head nickel are two of the modern U. S. coins for which large sums are offered by numismatic companies.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Bargain prices on a wide range of beef cuts offset some rather sharp rises in the cost of pork products in the nation's food markets this week.

Beef was a feature in many stores. Sales tags were pinned on steak, rib roast, pot roast, chuck roast and ground beef. Reductions on sirloin steak ranged from four to six cents a pound and on rib roast four cents a pound. There were small rises on these items in a number of stores, but in general the trend was downward.

Pork chops were higher almost everywhere. A survey showed them up eight cents a pound in New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, four cents in Los Angeles—and 18 cents in Detroit.

It was, of course, a matter of a decline in the number of hogs. Midwest livestock markets reported that it appeared likely hogs would soon sell higher than cattle for the first time since 1947. Indicative of the cattle surplus was the fact that one Chicago chain was selling round steak at 59 cents a pound, six cents below the price a month ago and 30 cents cheaper than at the start of the year.

Lamb Prices Climb

Lamb started climbing in price this week. Although many stores held prices at the week ago level, others lifted prices on leg of lamb by two cents a pound. Retailers thought other rises were ahead.

Frying chickens generally were more costly this week, up two to six cents a pound. Eggs headed lower for the first time in weeks, off one to four cents a dozen in various sections of the country. Butter prices changed little.

Halibut steak and cod fillet were featured fish buys. And federal authorities predicted fish prices would be lower later in the spring. They said they expect heavy catches and large imports.

Good Vegetable Buys

There were several good buys in vegetables. Most stores cited cabbage, onions, corn, tomatoes and both old and new potatoes. Lettuce, on the bargain counter for several weeks, was up in price in most stores and the same was true of asparagus. The U. S. Department of Agriculture noted that tender vegetables were inclined to rise in price on the wholesale market because of adverse growing conditions in produce areas.

The USDA also put onion and potatoes on the good buy list. Another recommendation was tomato juice.

Some food stores featured oranges and occasionally strawberries. North Carolina and Louisiana strawberries were moving into eastern markets at what wholesalers called reasonable prices.

Mayfly "Wraps Up" Air

When a mayfly goes below the water to lay its eggs, it can remain for long periods, since it "wraps up" a supply of air in its wings before going under.

Congressman Inspects Fancy Overcoat

Rep. R. Walter Riehlman (R.-N.Y.) turns around in his chair to inspect a fancy Army overcoat worn by Michael Belwan of House government operations subcommittee staff at a Washington hearing. Riehlman said the government ordered 1,400,000 of these coats in 1946, but the design was so complicated—including a zipper type appendage that served as leggings—that they couldn't be used. The congressional group headed by Riehlman is trying to find out what happened to the coats. (AP Wirephoto).

Gleason Convicted Of Jury Perjury

New York, April 23 (AP)—Former fire department inspector John E. Gleason, Jr. was convicted last night of lying to a grand jury which was trying to ferret out the new boss of a high-level shakedown racket.

After an hour and 10 minutes deliberation, an all-male General Sessions Court jury found Gleason guilty of four counts of perjury.

The effort to learn who succeeded former deputy fire commissioner James J. Moran as kingpin of a $500,000-a-year department shakedown operation never has turned up the culprit.

The 55-year-old Gleason could get up to 20 years in prison and $20,000 in fines for lying to the grand jury which was trying to find out. He was jailed pending sentencing May 14.

At his trial, prosecution witnesses said Gleason discussed with them matters concerning a new boss for the racket when former Mayor William O'Dwyer's regime was replaced by that of Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri.

Sampson Is Named

Some witnesses said Frank J. Sampson, patronage dispenser for Impellitteri, had taken over control of the racket. Sampson has denied any part in it.

The defense attacked credibility of the prosecution witnesses, three of whom are convicted felons and a fourth who has pleaded guilty to a crime. The defense said the guilty verdict would be appealed.

Victims of the shakedown racket were fuel oil firms, who had to pay off inspectors to get fire department permits to install equipment.

Moran, who in his days in city hall bossed the scheme, is serving a 12½ to 25 year prison term for extortion.

Although there are four main human blood groups, it is estimated that blood-group factors are capable of 132,710,400 different combinations.

Technique Yields Ore

San Francisco (AP)—The Chinese Communists claim that to make better use of large deposits of low-grade iron ores in Manchuria scientists have devised a method of mixing fatty acids derived from soy beans with large quantities of soft water. This is applied as a "wet dressing" of ores, Peiping radio reports. They claim the soybean dressing resulted in extraction of 64 per cent of the iron ore and said this was a much greater yield than magnetic dressing produced.

Rome's Papers Greet Mrs. Luce

Rome, April 23 (AP) — Clare Boothe Luce received straightforward greetings from most of Rome's morning newspapers today but the Communist L'Unita—as expected—was somthing less than chivalrous.

Commenting on the arrival yesterday of the new U. S. ambassador, L'Unita called her an "elderly lady" and said she spoke with a "Brooklyn accent." Mrs. Luce was 50 April 10.

The Communist organ also printed a cartoon, entitled "Arrival from America," depicting Mrs. Luce walking down the gangplank in fronth of a masked gangster labeled "Sciortino." Pasquale Sciortino, brother-in-law of the late Sicilian bandit Salvatore Giuliano, arrived in Italy on another ship earlier this week. He had been deported from the U. S. and faces a life sentence in Sicily for bandit crimes.

Other Rome morning papers carried big front page stories on the Ambassador's arrival but none had any editorial comment. One evening paper last night described her as "one of the most beautiful women of America" and a "writer and journalist of the first rank." Another said she had showed that she "learned quickly our needs and difficulties."

Parents to Meet

MJM parents and other interested citizens are cordially invited to attend the Parents Night sponsored by the Myron J. Michaeel Education Association on Tuesday evening at 8 p. m.

High School Guidance Today is the topic of discussion for the meeting. Courses available at Kingston High School will be explained and the job of the guidance department will be discussed. The speakers will be James E. Tobin, director of guidance, Kingston public schools and Miss Blanche Kirshenblum, MJM guidance counselor.

Following this discussion the MJM square dancing instruction program will be explained and demonstrated by Albert Gruner and Miss Delores Filardi, physical education teachers.

Prior to the program Jacob Tremper, president, will conduct a short business meeting.

Dance Is Held

Two hundred students attended the April Showers dance sponsored by student council on the evening of April 17. Lynda Marz, chairman of the student social committee, was general chairman.

Rome's Papers Greet Mrs. Luce

Rome, April 23 (AP) — Clare Boothe Luce received straightforward greetings from most of Rome's morning newspapers today but the Communist L'Unita—as expected—was somthing less than chivalrous.

Commenting on the arrival yesterday of the new U. S. ambassador, L'Unita called her an "elderly lady" and said she spoke with a "Brooklyn accent." Mrs. Luce was 50 April 10.

The Communist organ also printed a cartoon, entitled "Arrival from America," depicting Mrs. Luce walking down the gangplank in fronth of a masked gangster labeled "Sciortino." Pasquale Sciortino, brother-in-law of the late Sicilian bandit Salvatore Giuliano, arrived in Italy on another ship earlier this week. He had been deported from the U. S. and faces a life sentence in Sicily for bandit crimes.

Other Rome morning papers carried big front page stories on the Ambassador's arrival but none had any editorial comment. One evening paper last night described her as "one of the most beautiful women of America" and a "writer and journalist of the first rank." Another said she had showed that she "learned quickly our needs and difficulties."

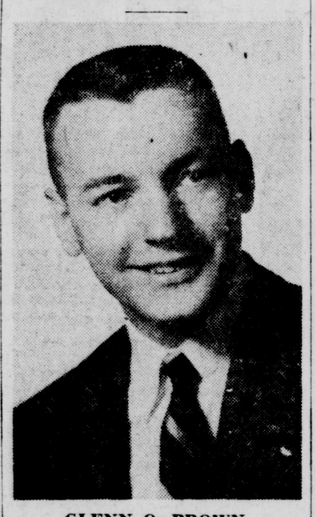
Kerhonkson Youth Is Honored at RPI



GLENN O. BROWN

Kerhonkson, April 23—Glenn O. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison A. Brown of Sunset Drive, Kerhonkson, has been elected Grand Marshal, the highest student officer, at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy. Brown is a junior management engineering student at the college.

Election of the office of Grand Marshal is considered the highest honor that can be bestowed upon an undergraduate student at the engineering college by his fellow students. As the Grand Marshal, Brown is head of the Rensselaer student body and the student representative in college matters.

Brown won the top student position by a vote of 1,096 to 816 given to his opponent, Alexander Glass of Oneonta. Politics at Rensselaer are conducted on a two-party system, with the Alliance and Combine parties. The election follows a week of hectic, traditional campaigning, complete with campaign buttons, loudspeaker announcements, rallies and the hocus-pocus of the national election races.

The students voted on regular election machines, a present to the college from the City of Troy. After the election, there was a victory parade. Brown rode at the head of the parade in an open convertible, followed by the other officers. Then came many floats that are a tradition of Grand Marshal week, with the fraternities competing for the best float on the campus. The theme of the floats this year was Scenes from History.

Wicks' Career . . .

has had a varied career as laborer, farm worker, civil engineer, surveyor, laundry operator, banker and hotelman.

In his younger years, he was active athletically and could be seen in action at the gymnasium in the YMCA, one of his favorite organizations.

No matter in what field he moved, Senator Wicks made friends, whose loyalty to him helped him in the various lines of endeavor he pursued. His associates consider him a natural leader, a man of foresight and ability, attributes that served him well in business and politics.

Settled in Olive Bridge

The 66-year-old senator moved into Ulster county at an early age. His family settled in Olive Bridge, where his father had purchased a farm. Wicks and his brother ran the place after their father's death, but he went back to New York on a job doing labor work for the city.

He studied civil engineering by correspondence and became a surveyor for the city.

In 1914, he became an inspector for the Public Service Commission on the construction of the Steinway Tunnel.

Wicks bought Thomsons Laundry at 243 Clinton avenue, this city, in 1916 and developed it into one of the leading firms in the field. He sold it several years ago.

At present Wicks is president of the Governor Clinton Hotel, a director of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, a member of Rotary Club, and other fraternal organizations.

Bard College Trustee

The senator is a trustee of Bard College, Annandale - on - Hudson, and chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, a post to which he was elected in 1944, when Roscoe V. Elsworth resigned to become a candidate for Supreme Court justice in the Third Judicial District.

Serves State Since 1927

Wicks has served in the State Senate since 1927 and introduced legislation to the benefit of his constituents in Ulster, Delaware, Sullivan and Greene, the counties comprising his 34th senatorial district.

Was Finance Chairman

In 1941, Senator Wicks was appointed chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee and as such became a legislative leader and a policy-maker in the state government commencing in 1942, upon the election of Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

At the end of the 1949 legislative session, when Senator Benjamin F. Feinberg was appointed chairman of the Public Service Commission by Gov. Dewey, Sen. Wicks was unanimously elected majority leader and president protem of the Senate by his party colleagues in the Senate.

Introduced Bridge Bill

One of the senator's most notable efforts was his authorship of the Wicks-Hatfield Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge law. His bill "putting some 30,000 transit workers under Civil Service" was considered in 1947 as a vote-getting factor in New York city.

In 1946, Wicks was elected chairman of a nine-man group to make a "thorough probe" of the State Education Department. Wicks worked with Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens, Brewster, as vice-chairman. Wicks and Stephens headed the Senate and Assembly Fiscal Committees respectively.

Likes Democrats Too

Wicks, a rough and tumble political gladiator, likes Democrats—socially. He used to be one. He twice voted for Woodrow Wilson for President. Before World War 1, Wicks was a Democratic ward committeeman at Kingston and a member of the Democratic County Executive Committee.

He quit the party, however, in 1917, when the Democratic chairman granted an enrolled Republican a favor Wicks had asked for himself. When Wicks got the political itch again in 1923, he became a Republican.

In 1949 when he was making his debut as GOP leader of the Senate, he said "I expect the Democrats will throw the book at us. They probably will try to make a record for themselves—on paper—and to discredit the present administration, with an eye to the 1950 state elections. I am fully prepared to meet any challenge the Democrats might offer concerning the efficiency of the present Republican administration and its entire record."

Wins in Landslides

The senator's repeated overwhelming victories at the polls are not only a personal tribute to Wicks but the mammoth landslides for his GOP candidates in this area reflect a story of his great leadership as chairman of the county Republican Committee.

In March 1951, Wicks was honored in Albany on the completion of his 25th year in the Senate. Senators unanimously adopted a resolution lauding Wicks as a "true statesman and an outstanding public servant."

Republican Senator Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, who introduced the resolution, said Wicks was "one of the greatest men who ever served in this body."

Praised by Quinn

The minority leader, the late Elmer F. Quinn, said Wicks was a "credit to his party."

The Associated Press in 1949, when it said Wicks' present post was a real springboard to the gubernatorial race, said "Wicks runs an efficient Republican organization in Ulster county. As a practical politician, he goes to bat frequently and fruitfully for his organization and its workers. He is a politician's politician, a factor that could react to his advantage when party leaders sit down to discuss the 1950 state ticket. Wicks is a tenacious battler in the legislative halls — and cloak rooms—for his district.

Wicks was tapped by the late Phil Elting, then Ulster county GOP chairman, at a midnight conference in the fall of 1926."

Dewey's Best Leader

The Binghamton Press in March 1953 said Wicks is the most effective Republican majority leader Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has had in the Senate since he took over in Albany.

On March 28, 1953, Gov. Dewey was reported as ready to appoint Senator Wicks to the 11-member state commission to study state-

ernor for the balance of my term."

The governor added:

"On the other hand I know that he will make a magnificent contribution to the cause of better and more effective government in the new responsibility he is undertaking."

Dewey said the lieutenant governor had advised him last year that he wanted to accept the foundation position as soon as possible.

Moore will continue to serve as chairman of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment, chairman of the State Commission on School Buildings and as a trustee of the State University.

Moore announced his resignation at a news conference.

Asked whether Dewey had discussed a possible fourth term with him, Moore told newsmen that the Governor had asked him several times whether he was interested in being a gubernatorial candidate.

No Political Ambitions

"Upon every occasion," Moore replied, "I have told him I have no political ambitions."

The lieutenant governor said he probably would take several members of his staff with him to the Rockefeller job. These are expected to be Miss Rosalind G. Baldwin, Moore's close adviser and research consultant, and J. Lawrence Murray, Moore's executive assistant and press secretary.

Moore said no comparable task had been undertaken by any other private group in history.

The new Rockefeller group will be known as the "Government Research Foundation, Inc." Its main office will be in New York, but Moore said that a "workship" might be set up here.

The lieutenant governor said the new foundation had "no connection that I know of" with announced plans of President Eisenhower's Administration to study a reshuffling of federal-state-local relations.

2,679 X-Rayed

A total of 2,679 persons were given free chest X-rays at the two units during Tuesday and Wednesday, the first two days of the Kingston Chest X-ray Survey, it was announced today by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association. The survey continues through May 9.

local government and spearhead a reshuffling of state-federal taxing powers.

The commission, a $575,000 year-long survey, was urged by the governor in his annual budget message to the legislature.

As a legislator, Wicks likes to think of himself as the man who prevented a Roosevelt "little WPA in New York by insisting on welfare "home rule." Under Wicks' bill (it was called that for years) he handed state aid to the municipalities rather than making relief a state function

He was married at 22 to a Catskill mountain girl, Mabel Everett. In 1938 when Mrs. Wicks asked him what he wanted for Christmas, the senator said a trip to the Rose Bowl. He got it. After the game he rushed right back to New York for the beginning of the Legislature without giving California a second look.

Bridge May Start

from outside the board of directors. All officers must be first elected as a director by the membership, except the president, who may now be elected from the membership. If this should take place, he would preside at meetings but would not have a vote on the board.

The president of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce will now serve as an ex-officio member of the board of directors of the senior chamber and will be invited to all meetings, another amendment provided.

Another amendment provides for an annual business meeting of chamber members during the month of April, in addition to the annual banquet, at which no business is transacted. Annual committee reports and the report of the executive secretary will be given at this meeting.

The fiscal year for the chamber was set at May 1 to the following April 30.

Plans Are Outlined

George Silkworth, chairman of the 1953 membership committee, outlined plans for the campaign. He announced that bills will be sent all members for their membership renewal on April 29, and suggested that larger firms and businesses consider increasing their financial support.

An intensive one-day campaign has been planned to secure new members, Silkworth reported. About 25 workers will make over 100 visits on Wednesday, April 29, in this effort. The workers will meet for an 8 o'clock breakfast on that day, get the names of prospects to be visited during the day, and will report back at a 6 p. m. buffet supper. The 1953-54 budget will be based on the results of the membership campaign.

Progress Is Made

Reporting briefly, Albert Kurdt, executive secretary, noted that progress has been made toward industrial expansion. He stated he felt confident that the new Industrial Development Corporation will develop a program, of which "we can all be proud." Attention was called to the fact that dealings with between 50 and 60 industrial prospects during the past year revealed that we did not have the necessary physical facilities to meet their requirements. Hope was expressed that the Industrial Development Corporation will be able to make the necessary plans and take the steps to meet those requirements.

Kurdt outlined briefly the results of the 300th anniversary celebration and stated he was particularly proud that such an elaborate and successful celebration was put on with the voluntary help of nearly 500 persons and without outside paid professional help.

It was also reported that the Chamber office in the Governo Clinton Hotel received between 6,000 and 7,000 inquires the past year, all of which were answered. These included personal visitors correspondence and telephone calls.

Conventions also played an important part in the city's economy during 1952, Kurdt said, accounting for additional gross income of well over $300,000. Attention was called to the fact that the local Chamber also maintains membership in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States the Empire State Chamber of Commerce and the National Better Business Bureau.

In concluding his report, Kurdt placed a great deal of emphasis on changes in transportation methods, and stated that travel time is now much more important than travel distance to the public. This creates a different concept in new industrial plant location shopping habits, and the need for steady traffic flow and adequate parking. "This is very important to consider in future plans if we are to protect property values, tax rolls, and expand, particularly with the coming of the Thruway and the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge," Kurdt said.

During a brief discussion period Captain Andrew S. Hickey suggested that careful consideration be given to the name for the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge. Row called attention to the need for additional area recreation facilities and suggested the possible use of the abandoned Zena reservoir for this purpose. He agreed to present his suggestion at the next board meeting.

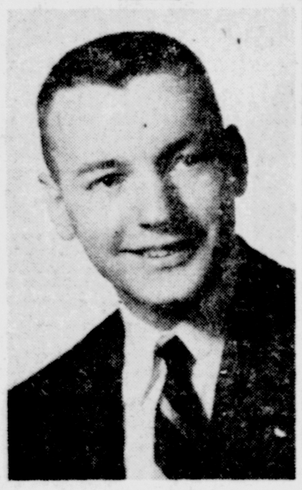
Kerhonkson Youth Is Honored at RPI



GLENN O. BROWN

Kerhonkson, April 23—Glenn O. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison A. Brown of Sunset Drive, Kerhonkson, has been elected Grand Marshal, the highest student officer, at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy. Brown is a junior management engineering student at the college.

Election of the office of Grand Marshal is considered the highest honor that can be bestowed upon an undergraduate student at the engineering college by his fellow students. As the Grand Marshal, Brown is head of the Rensselaer student body and the student representative in college matters.

Brown won the top student position by a vote of 1,096 to 816 given to his opponent, Alexander Glass of Oneonta. Politics at Rensselaer are conducted on a two-party system, with the Alliance and Combine parties. The election follows a week of hectic, traditional campaigning, complete with campaign buttons, loudspeaker announcements, rallies and the hocus-pocus of the national election races.

The students voted on regular election machines, a present to the college from the City of Troy. After the election, there was a victory parade. Brown rode at the head of the parade in an open convertible, followed by the other officers. Then came many floats that are a tradition of Grand Marshal week, with the fraternities competing for the best float on the campus. The theme of the floats this year was Scenes from History.

The 66-year-old senator moved into Ulster county at an early age. His family settled in Olive Bridge, where his father had purchased a farm. Wicks and his brother ran the place after their father's death, but he went back to New York on a job doing labor work for the city.

He studied civil engineering by correspondence and became a surveyor for the city.

In 1914, he became an inspector for the Public Service Commission on the construction of the Steinway Tunnel.

Wicks bought Thomsons Laundry at 243 Clinton avenue, this city, in 1916 and developed it into one of the leading firms in the field. He sold it several years ago.

At present Wicks is president of the Governor Clinton Hotel, a director of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, a member of Rotary Club, and other fraternal organizations.

Bard College Trustee

The senator is a trustee of Bard College, Annandale - on - Hudson, and chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, a post to which he was elected in 1944, when Roscoe V. Elsworth resigned to become a candidate for Supreme Court justice in the Third Judicial District.

Serves State Since 1927

Wicks has served in the State Senate since 1927 and introduced legislation to the benefit of his constituents in Ulster, Delaware, Sullivan and Greene, the counties comprising his 34th senatorial district.

Was Finance Chairman

In 1941, Senator Wicks was appointed chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee and as such became a legislative leader and a policy-maker in the state government commencing in 1942, upon the election of Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

At the end of the 1949 legislative session, when Senator Benjamin F. Feinberg was appointed chairman of the Public Service Commission by Gov. Dewey, Sen. Wicks was unanimously elected majority leader and president protem of the Senate by his party colleagues in the Senate.

Introduced Bridge Bill

One of the senator's most notable efforts was his authorship of the Wicks-Hatfield Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge law. His bill "putting some 30,000 transit workers under Civil Service" was considered in 1947 as a vote-getting factor in New York city.

In 1946, Wicks was elected chairman of a nine-man group to make a "thorough probe" of the State Education Department. Wicks worked with Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens, Brewster, as vice-chairman. Wicks and Stephens headed the Senate and Assembly Fiscal Committees respectively.

Likes Democrats Too

Wicks, a rough and tumble political gladiator, likes Democrats—socially. He used to be one. He twice voted for Woodrow Wilson for President. Before World War 1, Wicks was a Democratic ward committeeman at Kingston and a member of the Democratic County Executive Committee.

He quit the party, however, in 1917, when the Democratic chairman granted an enrolled Republican a favor Wicks had asked for himself. When Wicks got the political itch again in 1923, he became a Republican.

In 1949 when he was making his debut as GOP leader of the Senate, he said "I expect the Democrats will throw the book at us. They probably will try to make a record for themselves—on paper—and to discredit the present administration, with an eye to the 1950 state elections. I am fully prepared to meet any challenge the Democrats might offer concerning the efficiency of the present Republican administration and its entire record."

Wins in Landslides

The senator's repeated overwhelming victories at the polls are not only a personal tribute to Wicks but the mammoth landslides for his GOP candidates in this area reflect a story of his great leadership as chairman of the county Republican Committee.

In March 1951, Wicks was honored in Albany on the completion of his 25th year in the Senate. Senators unanimously adopted a resolution lauding Wicks as a "true statesman and an outstanding public servant."

Republican Senator Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, who introduced the resolution, said Wicks was "one of the greatest men who ever served in this body."

Praised by Quinn

The minority leader, the late Elmer F. Quinn, said Wicks was a "credit to his party."

The Associated Press in 1949, when it said Wicks' present post was a real springboard to the gubernatorial race, said "Wicks runs an efficient Republican organization in Ulster county. As a practical politician, he goes to bat frequently and fruitfully for his organization and its workers. He is a politician's politician, a factor that could react to his advantage when party leaders sit down to discuss the 1950 state ticket. Wicks is a tenacious battler in the legislative halls — and cloak rooms—for his district.

Wicks was tapped by the late Phil Elting, then Ulster county GOP chairman, at a midnight conference in the fall of 1926."

Dewey's Best Leader

The Binghamton Press in March 1953 said Wicks is the most effective Republican majority leader Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has had in the Senate since he took over in Albany.

On March 28, 1953, Gov. Dewey was reported as ready to appoint Senator Wicks to the 11-member state commission to study state-local government and spearhead a reshuffling of state-federal taxing powers.

The commission, a $575,000 year-long survey, was urged by the governor in his annual budget message to the legislature.

As a legislator, Wicks likes to think of himself as the man who prevented a Roosevelt "little WPA in New York by insisting on welfare "home rule." Under Wicks' bill (it was called that for years) he handed state aid to the municipalities rather than making relief a state function

He was married at 22 to a Catskill mountain girl, Mabel Everett. In 1938 when Mrs. Wicks asked him what he wanted for Christmas, the senator said a trip to the Rose Bowl. He got it. After the game he rushed right back to New York for the beginning of the Legislature without giving California a second look.

Wicks Stays . . .

ernor for the balance of my term."

The governor added:

"On the other hand I know that he will make a magnificent contribution to the cause of better and more effective government in the new responsibility he is undertaking."

Dewey said the lieutenant governor had advised him last year that he wanted to accept the foundation position as soon as possible.

Moore will continue to serve as chairman of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment, chairman of the State Commission on School Buildings and as a trustee of the State University.

Moore announced his resignation at a news conference.

Asked whether Dewey had discussed a possible fourth term with him, Moore told newsmen that the Governor had asked him several times whether he was interested in being a gubernatorial candidate.

No Political Ambitions

"Upon every occasion," Moore replied, "I have told him I have no political ambitions."

The lieutenant governor said he probably would take several members of his staff with him to the Rockefeller job. These are expected to be Miss Rosalind G. Baldwin, Moore's close adviser and research consultant, and J. Lawrence Murray, Moore's executive assistant and press secretary.

Moore said no comparable task had been undertaken by any other private group in history.

The new Rockefeller group will be known as the "Government Research Foundation, Inc." Its main office will be in New York, but Moore said that a "workship" might be set up here.

The lieutenant governor said the new foundation had "no connection that I know of" with announced plans of President Eisenhower's Administration to study a reshuffling of federal-state-local relations.

2,679 X-Rayed

A total of 2,679 persons were given free chest X-rays at the two units during Tuesday and Wednesday, the first two days of the Kingston Chest X-ray Survey, it was announced today by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association. The survey continues through May 9.

Bridge May Start

from outside the board of directors. All officers must be first elected as a director by the membership, except the president, who may now be elected from the membership. If this should take place, he would preside at meetings but would not have a vote on the board.

The president of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce will now serve as an ex-officio member of the board of directors of the senior chamber and will be invited to all meetings, another amendment provided.

Another amendment provides for an annual business meeting of chamber members during the month of April, in addition to the annual banquet, at which no business is transacted. Annual committee reports and the report of the executive secretary will be given at this meeting.

The fiscal year for the chamber was set at May 1 to the following April 30.

Plans Are Outlined

George Silkworth, chairman of the 1953 membership committee, outlined plans for the campaign. He announced that bills will be sent all members for their membership renewal on April 29, and suggested that larger firms and businesses consider increasing their financial support.

An intensive one-day campaign has been planned to secure new members, Silkworth reported. About 25 workers will make over 100 visits on Wednesday, April 29, in this effort. The workers will meet for an 8 o'clock breakfast on that day, get the names of prospects to be visited during the day, and will report back at a 6 p. m. buffet supper. The 1953-54 budget will be based on the results of the membership campaign.

Progress Is Made

Reporting briefly, Albert Kurdt, executive secretary, noted that progress has been made toward industrial expansion. He stated he felt confident that the new Industrial Development Corporation will develop a program, of which "we can all be proud." Attention was called to the fact that dealings with between 50 and 60 industrial prospects during the past year revealed that we did not have the necessary physical facilities to meet their requirements. Hope was expressed that the Industrial Development Corporation will be able to make the necessary plans and take the steps to meet those requirements.

Kurdt outlined briefly the results of the 300th anniversary celebration and stated he was particularly proud that such an elaborate and successful celebration was put on with the voluntary help of nearly 500 persons and without outside paid professional help.

It was also reported that the Chamber office in the Governo Clinton Hotel received between 6,000 and 7,000 inquires the past year, all of which were answered. These included personal visitors correspondence and telephon calls.

Conventions also played an important part in the city's economy during 1952, Kurdt said, accounting for additional gross income of well over $300,000. Attention was called to the fact that the local Chamber also maintains membership in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States the Empire State Chamber of Commerce and the National Better Business Bureau.

In concluding his report, Kurdt placed a great deal of emphasis on changes in transportation methods, and stated that travel time is now much more important than travel distance to the public. This creates a different concept in new industrial plant location shopping habits, and the need for steady traffic flow and adequate parking. "This is very important to consider in future plans if we are to protect property values, tax rolls, and expand, particularly with the coming of the Thruway and the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge," Kurdt said.

During a brief discussion period Captain Andrew S. Hickey suggested that careful consideration be given to the name for the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge. Row called attention to the need for additional area recreation facilities and suggested the possible use of the abandoned Zena reservoir for this purpose. He agreed to present his suggestion at the next board meeting.

By SOPHIE MILLER

I received a note from Herbert O. Frost of 316½ Wall street. He writes in part: "In one of your recent articles you mentioned Kingston Lisle, Berkshire, Enguand. I cut out the column and enclosed it in a letter to R. Clifford Kempster, a pen pal of mine in greater London. He received this letter March 24 and the London Evening News of that date referred to Kingston Lisle. He enclosed my column which had made a round trip to England and back together with an illustrated column from a London newspaper called, The Evening News, of Tuesday, March 24. There is a charming picture of "Kingston Lisle from the church porch."

To those who have heard so much about Kingston Lisle mentioned in local history, I will quote from this English newspaper columnist, Mr. Fieldfare: "In the valley under the old, attenuated White Horse spread out on the hill lies Kingston Lisle; and in a cottage garden there stands the curious Blowing Stone. A thousand Berkshire legends, tell the history of the stone, and no true Englishman coming through the valley would ever fall to knock upon the cottage door and ask permission to try his skill at blowing. It is said, that one day a man will come along, a descendant of King Alfred, and he will blow the stone so merrily that the horse will dance upon the hill. But although so many seek the stone and so many climb the hill to picnic on the White Horse near Uffington—very few indeed seek out the tiny church at Kingston Lisle."

Frost further wrote: "I particularly enjoy reference to the Hudson river and steamboats in your column, also the history of the Hudson Valley." Then received mail from A. T. Finley, of Dumont, N. J., in which many interesting items were enclosed. One a postal card of Steam Ferryboat Lark. This card was mailed in 1908 during the 250th Anniversary of Kingston, old postmark easily readible with old one cent Franklin stamp. Under picture on card it plainly states: "Making first trip from Rhinecliff to Kingston Point, first steam ferryboat at this point, Kingston will celebrate its 250th anniversary May 30, 31 and June 1, 1908. Come Help Us Celebrate." So according to that card our 300th Anniversary should come in 1958 but we have already celebrated it, so I am wondering what events will take place in 1958.

Another item reading "One Hundred Years Ago in the New York Tribune — Our omnibuses are getting a good distance up the river, a line having been established lst week between the villages of Kingston and Rondout." Another item sent up from Dumont, N. J., reads: "The oldest of the 40 covered bridges still standing in New York state is Parrine's Bridge, a 138 foot span built in 1850 across the Wallkill river between Rifton and Rosendale."

Mr. Finley also enclosed a booklet called The Hudson River and Summer Homes. On the front cover is a handsome photograph of the Mary Powell, also steamer Albany. For those who love to hear about the famous Mary Powell I will quote from this booklet another time so I can include as much as possible strictly about the famous Queen of the Hudson which had a glorious history during the famous steamer days of the Hudson river. Little did I know in my youth what a treat I experienced by being a passenger on the famous steamer.

How to judge Cauliflower in one quick glance

DOUBTFUL

When you see cauliflower that's dull gray in color or brownish-tinged, open up your mind to doubt for you are not beholding the best-of-breed. Such cauliflower usually has a crumbly "ricey" texture and its flavor never quite reaches the point of marvelous. But it does have this virtue: its price is a tiny bit lower than the marvelous kind.

DELIGHTFUL

We're so fussy that we insist on having Dulany cauliflower raised in the magic soil and air of New York's Long Island — which Nature has blessed with something that makes cauliflower wonderful. Only from this favored garden spot comes the snow-white, firm and compact cauliflower that wears the Dulany label. It's absolutely delectable, yet it costs only pennies more.

Enjoy Lobster-Cheese Sauce

ECONOMICAL "LUXURY" DISH is easy to prepare with South African rock lobster tails and butter and lemon on the side.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

South African lobster tails are a delicious foreign touch welcome to the American menu. Each tail is solidly packed with juicy white meat. As there is little waste, they are economical, too.

Broiled Rock Lobster Tails
(4-6 servings)

Place four to six (8-ounce) South African rock lobster tails, either thawed or frozen, into large kettle boiling salted water. Allow 1 teaspoon salt for each quart water. When water reboils, lower heat so water boils gently and begin counting time. Keep covered.

Boil tails 1 minute longer than their individual weight in ounces. For instance, boil an 8-ounce tail 9 minutes. Add 2 minutes to all boiling times when tails are cooked frozen. Serve with melted butter — spiced with a drop or two of aromatic bitters — and lemon wedges.

Rock Lobster With Cheese Sauce
(4-6 servings)

Use two (8-10 ounce) boiled South African rock lobster tails or two cans South African rock lobster, 2 cups cream sauce, 1½ cups grated snappy cheese, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon paprika.

Boil South African rock lobster tails according to directions. Remove meat and dice. Prepare cream sauce. Add cheese and stir over low heat until melted. Add Worcestershire and paprika. Blend well. Add diced rock lobster and heat thoroughly. Serve on patty shells, over toast or split hot biscuits.

Note—Another variation of this recipe is to place mixture in shallow baking pan, covered with buttered, seasoned soft crumbs and bake in hot oven (500 degrees F.) or under broiler for approximately 5 minutes, or until sauce bubbles.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Tomato juice with lemon, French toast, honey or syrup, crisp bacon, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tuna and celery salad with mayonnaise in lettuce cups, hot buttered toast, gingerbread, fruit bowl, tea, milk.

DINNER: Boiled rock lobster tails with seasoned butter and lemon wedges, French-fried potatoes, broiled tomato halves, Italian bread, mixed green salad, French dressing, pineapple sherbert, coffee, milk.

Improves Reading Habits

Houston (AP)—A wartime tachistoscope used to train troops in quick airplane identification is helping school children improve their reading speed. In a remedial reading class for seventh grade students at Jackson Junior High School, a series of phrases or numbers is flashed on a screen for a fraction of a second and the students drill in quick identification. The tachistoscope is helping increase the pupil's "eye span" so they can see several words at once.

Hong Kong Has Jitters

Manila (AP)—Business in Hong Kong is slumping and the population is war jittery since British endorsement of the U. S. economic blockade against Red China, says a 16-man chamber of commerce trade mission to the Philippines.

Robert Der, chairman of the mission, said it was seeking means of promoting closer trade relations between this country and the crown colony.

Spanhake and Wells played for the square dancing which followed the dinner.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carle in the Margaretville Hospital Sunday night. The baby, who weighed in at seven pounds, 10 ounces, will probably be named Lisa.

Mrs. Helen Barringer has recovered from a recent illness.

Mt. Tremper Grange will hold a meatloaf supper in the Grange hall Wednesday, April 29, from 6 p. m. on. Although tickets will be on sale at the door that night, they may also be purchased from Frank Carle, Mrs. Francis Lane, Mrs. Otto Umhey, Mrs. Howard Umhey, Ves Wells or Pete Gardner.

Lusitania Salvage Hinted

Rosslare Harbor, Ireland (AP)—Salvage ships are fitting out here for another trip to the Atlantic's "ship's graveyard"—a 100 mile stretch off the Irish coast, where in two wars German U-boats claimed more than 150 victims. The salvage men are looking for valuable lead, copper and steel. One unconfirmed report said they may try for the cargo of the Cunard liner Lusitania, torpedoed in 1915 with the loss of 1198 lives.

Enjoy Lobster-Cheese Sauce

ECONOMICAL "LUXURY" DISH is easy to prepare with South African rock lobster tails and butter and lemon on the side.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

South African lobster tails are a delicious foreign touch welcome to the American menu. Each tail is solidly packed with juicy white meat. As there is little waste, they are economical, too.

Broiled Rock Lobster Tails
(4-6 servings)

Place four to six (8-ounce) South African rock lobster tails, either thawed or frozen, into large kettle boiling salted water. Allow 1 teaspoon salt for each quart water. When water reboils, lower heat so water boils gently and begin counting time. Keep covered.

Boil tails 1 minute longer than their individual weight in ounces. For instance, boil an 8-ounce tail 9 minutes. Add 2 minutes to all boiling times when tails are cooked frozen. Serve with melted butter — spiced with a drop or two of aromatic bitters — and lemon wedges.

Rock Lobster With Cheese Sauce
(4-6 servings)

Use two (8-10 ounce) boiled South African rock lobster tails or two cans South African rock lobster, 2 cups cream sauce, 1½ cups grated snappy cheese, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon paprika.

Boil South African rock lobster tails according to directions. Remove meat and dice. Prepare cream sauce. Add cheese and stir over low heat until melted. Add Worcestershire and paprika. Blend well. Add diced rock lobster and heat thoroughly. Serve on patty shells, over toast or split hot biscuits.

Note—Another variation of this recipe is to place mixture in shallow baking pan, covered with buttered, seasoned soft crumbs and bake in hot oven (500 degrees F.) or under broiler for approximately 5 minutes, or until sauce bubbles.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Tomato juice with lemon, French toast, honey or syrup, crisp bacon, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tuna and celery salad with mayonnaise in lettuce cups, hot buttered toast, gingerbread, fruit bowl, tea, milk.

DINNER: Boiled rock lobster tails with seasoned butter and lemon wedges, French-fried potatoes, broiled tomato halves, Italian bread, mixed green salad, French dressing, pineapple sherbert, coffee, milk.

McGovern Might

of the $28,000-a-year post as Westchester County Surrogate, when a vacancy develops in that judicial post next year. His state salary is $20,000.

A reliable source said McGovern now was "cooling off" about the surrogate's job. The source said one reason for his change of heart was the requirement that a surrogate must give up private law business. This would force McGovern to quit his law practice in New Rochelle.

Although the tax-study was created in the 1953 Legislature for only a one-year study, there is no doubt that it will be continued at least one additional year, and probably longer.

The first year's work will involve chiefly the job of deciding what specific fields to explore—a major task in itself. The real meat of such a study would not develop until the second or third year.

This would continue the work past the state election a year from next November. If McGovern got wrapped up in the commission survey, he might decide to remain in state politics, and be a candidate for re-election as comptroller—or even lieutenant governor—in 1954.

battle of the Panmunjom outposts earlier this month and Colombians caught in the Red onslaught over Old Baldy a few days before.

The first eight patients were chalky-faced, some obviously in pain.

They were rushed to doctors for first aid and later to hospitals for full medical care.

One uncertain marine tugged at the arm of an American lieutenant as his litter was passed from a Red ambulance.

"No foolin', lieutenant, is this really changee-changee?"

"No foolin'," answered the officer.

Total Americans Now 79

The 14 Americans brought the total of U. S. troops returned to 79. The 40 promised for Friday would make a total of 119, just one short of the 120 promised originally by the Reds. However, the new Red move could raise that figure.

In four days of exchange, the Communists have returned 400 allied troops—mostly South Korean—and the UN has returned 2,000 Communists, including all 700 Chinese scheduled to go home.

The Red offer to return more UN troops came at a special liaison officers meeting called by the UN amid speculation the allies would demand more prisoners after hearing reports about those still in camps.

It came against a background of mushrooming charges that 1,500 allied prisoners died of hunger and lack of medical attention, of clubbings and bayonettings and death marches along icy roads.

When the Communists first announced they would return about 600 disabled allied prisoners, the UNC called the figure "incredibly small" and asked for a recount.

Figures Rechecked

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee San Cho said several times that the figures had been rechecked and that 600 was all.

But at this liaison meeting Lee told allied truce delegate Rear Adm. John C. Daniel:

"I would like to inform your side that the sick and injured captured personnel whom our side is repatriating at this time include not only all the sick and injured captured personnel held in prisoner of war camps of our side but also those captured recently by our side at the front.

"Therefore the number of personnel to be repatriated by our side is more than the estimated figure which your side has been previously informed. As to the exact figure . . . your side will be informed daily according to the agreement of both sides."

The meeting lasted only four minutes.

The United Nations had called the meeting. Daniel said afterward only a minor matter was to be discussed and that it had been straightened out before they met. He did not say what it was.

Clark said in a three-sentence statement, issued in Tokyo:

Clark Is Gratified

"Gen. Clark is gratified that the Communists, in response to repeated requests from the United Nations command, have agreed to return not only additional sick and wounded captured U. N. C. personnel, but all U. N. C. personnel in this category.

"The return of such personnel is, of course, in accordance with the provisions of the Geneva convention * * and is the inescapable obligation of the parties to the conflict.

"Furthermore, it is a continuing obligation as additional personnel are determined to fall under the provisions of article 109 of the convention."

At Munsan, both Daniel and Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior United Nations truce delegate, expressed pleasure.

Daniel commented: "We would be glad if we only got back one more than they said they would give us but we would like to get them all back."

The stories told here briefly by the latest group of returning soldiers were about the same as those from the previous three days.

Marines said they were taken to a Chinese bunker the first day of their capture. The next day they were marched to the rear, where they spent the night in a cave. They said the third day they were taken to a Korean farmhouse where they were split up. The wounded were taken to a place the Communists called camp No. 10.

They said they were given rice, vegetables and some meat.

The marines said that only two days ago, the Reds put them on trucks and brought them to Kaesong, the Communist truce base and holding point for prisoners to be brought to Panmunjom for the exchange.

Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Commander of the Eighth Army, said he thought the condition of returning allied war prisoners so far was "generally good."

"They may be sending us only the best ones, but we cannot determine that now."

South Korean Says

only four survivors among 41 Marines hit by Chinese on outpost Reno.

Marine Pfc. Richard L. Oven of Buffalo, N. Y., was captured on outpost Vegas after he was wounded by shrapnel in the leg and left hand.

Bunker Caves In

"The outpost was about 800 yards forward. We were hit about the same time as Reno. We were in a bunker and could not get out. The bunker started to cave in. There was another bunker on the hill and we tried to get to it but the barrage was too heavy.

"When the barrage lifted a little, we heard the Chinese coming up the hill. We were overrun before we could leave the bunkers. They threw satchel charges and knocked the bunker in. We were trapped in there about three quarters of an hour. There were about 45 of us and about 10 were captured. The rest were killed, I guess."

Oven said he was taken to a hospital about 75 miles behind the front.

"I believe it was the best medical treatment they had but they didn't have the equipment that we have," he said.

All he thought about during his short captivity was "I wanted a steak dinner."

He smiled and added: "I think I'm up to it right now."

San Francisco, April 23 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt yesterday expressed a belief "there is real trouble within the Soviet Union."

"I believe there is great confusion within the Soviet," she told a news conference sponsored by the American Association for the United Nations."

Judd said southeast Asia "always has been the main target" of the Communists and the Indochina, its gateway, must be held.

Zablocki voiced the opinion that the U. S. "cannot continue aiding the French in Indochina until the French bring us assurances of honorable intentions" to give the Vietnam natives more freedom.

Futile and Dangerous

"I feel it is futile and dangerous on our part to assist the French if we are going to be listed as collaborators to colonialism," Zablocki said.

The Senate Committee's decision not to hold hearings on the atrocities reported in Korea was announced by Bridges. He said Walter Bedell Smith, undersecretary of state, and other officials told the committee in a closed session they were concerned over the publicity already given released sick and wounded Americans in Korea.

Bridges said the officials urged, and the committee agreed, that:

1. It would be "very unfortunate" to stir up new publicity while the exchange of prisoners is going on.

2. Publicity attending a Congressional hearing might complicate negotiations for exchange of other prisoners.

3. Publication of facts now known to the military might bring reprisals against U. S. and UN prisoners still held by the Red Chinese and North Koreans.

Bridges said the officials agreed to step up collection of evidence of atrocities "so that when and if the time comes we are in a position to take some affirmative action the evidence will not have to be collected, but be on hand.

of the $28,000-a-year post as Westchester County Surrogate, when a vacancy develops in that judicial post next year. His state salary is $20,000.

A reliable source said McGovern now was "cooling off" about the surrogate's job. The source said one reason for his change of heart was the requirement that a surrogate must give up private law business. This would force McGovern to quit his law practice in New Rochelle.

Although the tax-study was created in the 1953 Legislature for only a one-year study, there is no doubt that it will be continued at least one additional year, and probably longer.

The first year's work will involve chiefly the job of deciding what specific fields to explore—a major task in itself. The real meat of such a study would not develop until the second or third year.

This would continue the work past the state election a year from next November. If McGovern got wrapped up in the commission survey, he might decide to remain in state politics, and be a candidate for re-election as comptroller—or even lieutenant governor—in 1954.

In four days of exchange, the Communists have returned 400 allied troops—mostly South Korean—and the UN has returned 2,000 Communists, including all 700 Chinese scheduled to go home.

The Red offer to return more UN troops came at a special liaison officers meeting called by the UN amid speculation the allies would demand more prisoners after hearing reports about those still in camps.

It came against a background of mushrooming charges that 1,500 allied prisoners died of hunger and lack of medical attention, of clubbings and bayonettings and death marches along icy roads.

When the Communists first announced they would return about 600 disabled allied prisoners, the UNC called the figure "incredibly small" and asked for a recount.

Figures Rechecked

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee San Cho said several times that the figures had been rechecked and that 600 was all.

But at this liaison meeting Lee told allied truce delegate Rear Adm. John C. Daniel:

"I would like to inform your side that the sick and injured captured personnel whom our side is repatriating at this time include not only all the sick and injured captured personnel held in prisoner of war camps of our side but also those captured recently by our side at the front.

"Therefore the number of personnel to be repatriated by our side is more than the estimated figure which your side has been previously informed. As to the exact figure . . . your side will be informed daily according to the agreement of both sides."

The meeting lasted only four minutes.

The United Nations had called the meeting. Daniel said afterward only a minor matter was to be discussed and that it had been straightened out before they met. He did not say what it was.

Clark said in a three-sentence statement, issued in Tokyo:

Clark Is Gratified

"Gen. Clark is gratified that the Communists, in response to repeated requests from the United Nations command, have agreed to return not only additional sick and wounded captured U. N. C. personnel, but all U. N. C. personnel in this category.

"The return of such personnel is, of course, in accordance with the provisions of the Geneva convention * * and is the inescapable obligation of the parties to the conflict.

"Furthermore, it is a continuing obligation as additional personnel are determined to fall under the provisions of article 109 of the convention."

At Munsan, both Daniel and Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior United Nations truce delegate, expressed pleasure.

Daniel commented: "We would be glad if we only got back one more than they said they would give us but we would like to get them all back."

The stories told here briefly by the latest group of returning soldiers were about the same as those from the previous three days.

Marines said they were taken to a Chinese bunker the first day of their capture. The next day they were marched to the rear, where they spent the night in a cave. They said the third day they were taken to a Korean farmhouse where they were split up. The wounded were taken to a place the Communists called camp No. 10.

They said they were given rice, vegetables and some meat.

The marines said that only two days ago, the Reds put them on trucks and brought them to Kaesong, the Communist truce base and holding point for prisoners to be brought to Panmunjom for the exchange.

Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Commander of the Eighth Army, said he thought the condition of returning allied war prisoners so far was "generally good."

"They may be sending us only the best ones, but we cannot determine that now."

South Korean Says

only four survivors among 41 Marines hit by Chinese on outpost Reno.

Marine Pfc. Richard L. Oven of Buffalo, N. Y., was captured on outpost Vegas after he was wounded by shrapnel in the leg and left hand.

Bunker Caves In

"The outpost was about 800 yards forward. We were hit about the same time as Reno. We were in a bunker and could not get out. The bunker started to cave in. There was another bunker on the hill and we tried to get to it but the barrage was too heavy.

"When the barrage lifted a little, we heard the Chinese coming up the hill. We were overrun before we could leave the bunkers. They threw satchel charges and knocked the bunker in. We were trapped in there about three quarters of an hour. There were about 45 of us and about 10 were captured. The rest were killed, I guess."

Oven said he was taken to a hospital about 75 miles behind the front.

"I believe it was the best medical treatment they had but they didn't have the equipment that we have," he said.

All he thought about during his short captivity was "I wanted a steak dinner."

He smiled and added: "I think I'm up to it right now."

Mrs. FDR Suspects Real Soviet Trouble

San Francisco, April 23 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt yesterday expressed a belief "there is real trouble within the Soviet Union."

"I believe there is great confusion within the Soviet," she told a news conference sponsored by the American Association for the United Nations.

"They have no top hand at the helm, as they had before. We should, however, be as wise as possible and not go to sleep, but watch every indication and weigh every statement from Soviet representatives in order to determine if we can what is behind their policy."

Senate Puts Move

cently from a swing through the Far East.

Judd said southeast Asia "always has been the main target" of the Communists and the Indochina, its gateway, must be held.

Zablocki voiced the opinion that the U. S. "cannot continue aiding the French in Indochina until the French bring us assurances of honorable intentions" to give the Vietnam natives more freedom.

Futile and Dangerous

"I feel it is futile and dangerous on our part to assist the French if we are going to be listed as collaborators to colonialism," Zablocki said.

The Senate Committee's decision not to hold hearings on the atrocities reported in Korea was announced by Bridges. He said Walter Bedell Smith, undersecretary of state, and other officials told the committee in a closed session they were concerned over the publicity already given released sick and wounded Americans in Korea.

Bridges said the officials urged, and the committee agreed, that:

1. It would be "very unfortunate" to stir up new publicity while the exchange of prisoners is going on.

2. Publicity attending a Congressional hearing might complicate negotiations for exchange of other prisoners.

3. Publication of facts now known to the military might bring reprisals against U. S. and UN prisoners still held by the Red Chinese and North Koreans.

Bridges said the officials agreed to step up collection of evidence of atrocities "so that when and if the time comes we are in a position to take some affirmative action the evidence will not have to be collected, but be on hand.

The south window is given in memory of Charles Spalt who was a member of the congregation from 1898 until his death in 1944, during which time he was active in its work and a member of its church council.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

While the world is embroiled in what commentators like to call "peace offensives" the Ruminator would like to discuss this week money and money managers.

Money seems a dry subject to most people, but it lubricates both war and peace. We'll approach it from the human, rather than the statistical, viewpoint.

When nations gird for war and defense, money becomes ammunition fully as important as shells and guns. There was a time when "everyone" used to say "you can't fight a war without money." Hitler and Schacht disposed of that silly nonsense! Gold was king, so was quickly beheaded (liquidated, as is the custom of dictators). Wars have since been successfully waged on "paper." Paper money is much simpler to manipulate and multiply than is the previous metal, gold.

When you think of money today you have to keep in mind that it is a managed affair. You have to think of it in terms of men, not of metal. You have to speculate on what the "managers" will do next. And when you consider how frequently economic predictions go wrong, you realize how precarious money management can be.

Money, as we're talking about it here, includes "credit." Money and credit will only be as stable and sound as its managers. It would be better to say—will only be as stable and sound as its managers foresee and counter economic events. The men managing our monetary system today are both able and stable. They believe in sound money. But this is no guarantee that they can maintain soundness and stability.

EVENTS control stability—and in consequence soundness. Until we know whether coming events spell greater upheavals in world economics, you cannot be confident that money will be nicely balanced with other factors in the economic merry-go-round.

What are the money managers trying to do now?

They are endeavoring to do two things, if I interpret their policies correctly.

They are determined (if possible) to maintain the "sound and stable dollar" promised in the Republican platform and campaign. That is, the dollar shall not lose further value in purchasing power. Second, they wish to prevent additional inflation — preferably to bring about a little deflation. This would make the dollar worth more. Consequently, they have permitted money "to cost more" —have allowed interest rates to rise, tending to discourage overborrowing, over-lending.

The first requirement dovetails with the second—but if too much focus is on the deflationary aspects of the money problem, there is a risk involved. A "little" deflation is like a slight cold: It often quickly develops into a runny nose and then moves deeper into a chest cold. Deflation might get running, too, and prices slide down deeper than the doctors like to see. What might happen is this: "People" may not react as the money doctors want them to, or expect them to. They may get frightened that their little cold is going to develop into pneumonia; so they jump into bed and pull the blankets up over their heads. (They stop buying, that is, and wait for the chilly deflation to pass.)

When this happens, then stopping deflation becomes the problem!

And here is where the rub comes. Monetary history reveals that credit and money management has been more efficient in dampening a boom than in bringing about revival and recovery. As we learned in the 'thirties, "reflation" (as FDR termed it) doesn't always "take" when you want it to.

Certainly, the money managers seem to be going about their appointed tasks in an able manner —but the Ruminator thinks we should be extremely watchful BECAUSE the monetary policy of "tightening up on loose money" starts just as the so-called "peace offensives" open up. The idea of peace is deflationary to many minds. So, we have a managed-money deflation added to, now, by a psychological influence.

This is an example how "events" intrude themselves.

Yet, we do not know how the public will react. Expected developments seldom occur when expected. The public may be indifferent—for a time—to these apparent deflationary influences. Moreover, we might keep in mind that the money managers may fear a possible over-emphasis on deflation and cautiously pull back, even off-set their current policy by "small moves" in the opposite direction.

One of the reasons we must be watchful is that "everybody" expects deflation now. Perhaps, as so often happens, the public will fool everybody and not react as anticipated. Maybe people will think the idea of peace is wonderful and celebrate by spending, instead of being afraid to buy the things they've planned on.

Climb Easy—Descent Tough

Denver (AP) — So what goes up must come down, eh? Just try telling that to a balky horse, says Donald Dean, 22, of Denver. Dean borrowed a horse from a friend and rode up to the top of Table Mountain near Golden, west of Denver. But when he started down, the horse apparently decided the going was too steep and refused to budge. So Dean built a fire and tried to keep warm during the night until searchers reached him the next morning. The other horses coaxed Dean's steed into making the descent.

5,705,187 Had Licenses

Albany, April 23 (AP)—A record 5,705,187 persons held New York state driving licenses as of last Dec. 31—a 1.7 per cent increase in a year. THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

While the world is embroiled in what commentators like to call "peace offensives" the Ruminator would like to discuss this week money and money managers.

Money seems a dry subject to most people, but it lubricates both war and peace. We'll approach it from the human, rather than the statistical, viewpoint.

When nations gird for war and defense, money becomes ammunition fully as important as shells and guns. There was a time when "everyone" used to say "you can't fight a war without money." Hitler and Schacht disposed of that silly nonsense! Gold was king, so was quickly beheaded (liquidated, as is the custom of dictators). Wars have since been successfully waged on "paper." Paper money is much simpler to manipulate and multiply than is the previous metal, gold.

When you think of money today you have to keep in mind that it is a managed affair. You have to think of it in terms of men, not of metal. You have to speculate on what the "managers" will do next. And when you consider how frequently economic predictions go wrong, you realize how precarious money management can be.

Money, as we're talking about it here, includes "credit." Money and credit will only be as stable and sound as its managers. It would be better to say—will only be as stable and sound as its managers foresee and counter economic events. The men managing our monetary system today are both able and stable. They believe in sound money. But this is no guarantee that they can maintain soundness and stability.

EVENTS control stability—and in consequence soundness. Until we know whether coming events spell greater upheavals in world economics, you cannot be confident that money will be nicely balanced with other factors in the economic merry-go-round.

What are the money managers trying to do now?

They are endeavoring to do two things, if I interpret their policies correctly.

They are determined (if possible) to maintain the "sound and stable dollar" promised in the Republican platform and campaign. That is, the dollar shall not lose further value in purchasing power. Second, they wish to prevent additional inflation — preferably to bring about a little deflation. This would make the dollar worth more. Consequently, they have permitted money "to cost more" —have allowed interest rates to rise, tending to discourage overborrowing, over-lending.

The first requirement dovetails with the second—but if too much focus is on the deflationary aspects of the money problem, there is a risk involved. A "little" deflation is like a slight cold: It often quickly develops into a runny nose and then moves deeper into a chest cold. Deflation might get running, too, and prices slide down deeper than the doctors like to see. What might happen is this: "People" may not react as the money doctors want them to, or expect them to. They may get frightened that their little cold is going to develop into pneumonia; so they jump into bed and pull the blankets up over their heads. (They stop buying, that is, and wait for the chilly deflation to pass.)

When this happens, then stopping deflation becomes the problem!

And here is where the rub comes. Monetary history reveals that credit and money management has been more efficient in dampening a boom than in bringing about revival and recovery. As we learned in the 'thirties, "reflation" (as FDR termed it) doesn't always "take" when you want it to.

Certainly, the money managers seem to be going about their appointed tasks in an able manner —but the Ruminator thinks we should be extremely watchful BECAUSE the monetary policy of "tightening up on loose money" starts just as the so-called "peace offensives" open up. The idea of peace is deflationary to many minds. So, we have a managed-money deflation added to, now, by a psychological influence.

This is an example how "events" intrude themselves.

Yet, we do not know how the public will react. Expected developments seldom occur when expected. The public may be indifferent—for a time—to these apparent deflationary influences. Moreover, we might keep in mind that the money managers may fear a possible over-emphasis on deflation and cautiously pull back, even off-set their current policy by "small moves" in the opposite direction.

One of the reasons we must be watchful is that "everybody" expects deflation now. Perhaps, as so often happens, the public will fool everybody and not react as anticipated. Maybe people will think the idea of peace is wonderful and celebrate by spending, instead of being afraid to buy the things they've planned on.

Climb Easy—Descent Tough

Denver (AP) — So what goes up must come down, eh? Just try telling that to a balky horse, says Donald Dean, 22, of Denver. Dean borrowed a horse from a friend and rode up to the top of Table Mountain near Golden, west of Denver. But when he started down, the horse apparently decided the going was too steep and refused to budge. So Dean built a fire and tried to keep warm during the night until searchers reached him the next morning. The other horses coaxed Dean's steed into making the descent.

Third Meeting Held

Berlin, April 23 (AP)—Soviet representatives met with those of the U. S., Britain and France last night for the third time to discuss proposals for air safety over East Germany but failed to reach any agreement. It was decided to resume the talks by the occupation powers at a date to be fixed later.

Price Says Slash In Atom Work Is At Hazardous Time

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Rep. Price (D.-Ill.) said today the new administration is planning to cut spending for atomic energy "to the bone" at a time when "the Kremlin is stepping up the tempo of its atomic effort."

Cuts of hundreds of millions of dollars will be made in former President Truman's two billion atomic energy budget for the year starting July 1, Price said in an interview.

However, Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R.-NY), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said in a separate interview the extent of reductions has not been finally decided. He said the Truman budget for atomic energy is still under review by the Budget Bureau.

He expressed belief the Eisenhower administration "will not touch the heart" of the program, because, he said, it is "convinced of the importance" of expanding it.

Price, a member of Cole's committee, cautioned Congress in a speech prepared for House delivery against "ill advised" funds cuts. He said he believes cuts already decided upon by the administration will be so deep that "any more reductions by Congress will affect the expansion program."

Grand Union Says High Bids Hold-up

The Grand Union Company, which plans to build a super market in the Roosevelt Park area, has contracted to buy another property in the area, it was learned today.

Start of the project has been delayed, it was also reported, because all bids received recently were too high.

The other property to be bought is on the westerly side of the intersection of Albany and Madison avenues, and is owned by John W. and Carrie Martin. It has already received a business zone designation and will add an area 50 by 125 feet to the land already acquired by the chain store company.

Chapter-a-Day Club Will Meet Tonight

The day and time for the meeting of the Clinton Avenue Chapter-a-Day Club has been changed from Sunday to Thursday at 6:45 p. m. in order to make it possible for more people to attend, it has been announced. The meeting will be held tonight in the Epworth Parlors of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. Dr. Clyde Herbert Snell will be in charge of the discussion. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Publishers Told Labor Relations Better on Papers

New York, April 23 (AP)—The American Newspaper Publishers Association was told today that there was "a definite improvement in newspaper labor relations" in the past year.

"But that improvement has been partially offset by less arbitration and more strikes," a special standing committee reported to the association's annual convention.

It said there had been several gains in promoting "amicable relations between publishers and employes," including:

1. "Restoration of free local bargaining," and curbing of "the monopoly threatened by national bargaining."

2. An end of government control of wages.

3. Renewal for five years of the ANPA's international arbitration agreement with the AFL International Printing Pressmen's Union. It binds the parties to arbitrate disputes that can't be settled in negotiation.

Agreements Are Praised

The report, presented on the final day of the three-day convention praised such arbitration agreements as providing "mutual benefits" to employer and employe.

"Arbitration forces many settlements that strikes prevent," the report added.

It said there were 11 strikes against newspapers last year, compared with none in 1951, but added that the 1951 record of no strikes was "unparalleled in the twentieth century."

"Except for the clear 1951 slate, 1952 was the best in several years," the report said. It noted the 11 strikes last year compared with an average in the past decade of 23 a year.

The association will elect officers today and close tonight with a Bureau of Advertising dinner to be addressed by Vice President Nixon.

The membership committee reported 786 newspapers now belong to the ANPA.

Esopus Legion Has Aid Organization

A Past Commanders Association to lend more positive assistance to all its projects and offer advice and guidance, when desired, has been formed by the former leaders of Town of Esopus Post, 1298, American Legion.

An announcement from the post said the new association was formed Wednesday evening, and the purposes were made public. It was also said that the past commanders plan to meet informally at regular intervals and hope to hold a dinner or social activity at least twice a year.

The first dinner is planned for June 8, the night before inauguration of new post officers, to welcome the present post commander, Edgar M. Maurer, into the association.

Past Commanders in the association now are P. Joseph Beichert, Robert J. Henry, Chester W. Barth, John A. Henry, Russell J. Maurer, Clifford D. Davis, Jr., and Roger W. Mabie.

The Esopus Legion was formed at the conclusion of World War 2 and has grown into one of the most active and agressive posts in the county. Last year it enjoyed the highest membership of its existence. The post has consistently led in the promotion of worthwhile community projects. Last summer, the Esopus Legion sponsored Little League baseball in the township, and shortly plans to embark upon its second season. During the postwar years, Post 1298 also purchased and developed its own Memorial Home. This building has now been completely debt free for several years.

Criticizes Rent Call to Newburgh

Protest has been offered in a letter by Attorney Thomas J. Plunket, chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee, to holding a rent decontrol meeting on April 23, at 7:30 p. m. in Newburgh.

In the letter to Francis J. McCambridge, local rent administrator, 12 Washington street, Poughkeepsie, Plunket said, "The People who rent homes or apartments who would normally be expected to attend such a hearing should not be required to travel to the city of Newburgh.

"It is true that the southeastern portion of this county is closer to Newburgh, but it will be a great inconvenience to the great majority."

Plunket urged in his communication to McCambridge that the meeting be adjourned to Kingston, the county seat for the 20 towns involved in the decontrol action "in order that all persons will be given an opportunity to be heard."

Third Meeting Held

Berlin, April 23 (AP)—Soviet representatives met with those of the U. S., Britain and France last night for the third time to discuss proposals for air safety over East Germany but failed to reach any agreement. It was decided to resume the talks by the occupation powers at a date to be fixed later.

Price Says Slash In Atom Work Is At Hazardous Time

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Rep. Price (D.-Ill.) said today the new administration is planning to cut spending for atomic energy "to the bone" at a time when "the Kremlin is stepping up the tempo of its atomic effort."

Cuts of hundreds of millions of dollars will be made in former President Truman's two billion atomic energy budget for the year starting July 1, Price said in an interview.

However, Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R.-NY), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said in a separate interview the extent of reductions has not been finally decided. He said the Truman budget for atomic energy is still under review by the Budget Bureau.

He expressed belief the Eisenhower administration "will not touch the heart" of the program, because, he said, it is "convinced of the importance" of expanding it.

Price, a member of Cole's committee, cautioned Congress in a speech prepared for House delivery against "ill advised" funds cuts. He said he believes cuts already decided upon by the administration will be so deep that "any more reductions by Congress will affect the expansion program."

Chapter-a-Day Club Will Meet Tonight

The day and time for the meeting of the Clinton Avenue Chapter-a-Day Club has been changed from Sunday to Thursday at 6:45 p. m. in order to make it possible for more people to attend, it has been announced. The meeting will be held tonight in the Epworth Parlors of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. Dr. Clyde Herbert Snell will be in charge of the discussion. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Publishers Told Labor Relations Better on Papers

New York, April 23 (AP)—The American Newspaper Publishers Association was told today that there was "a definite improvement in newspaper labor relations" in the past year.

"But that improvement has been partially offset by less arbitration and more strikes," a special standing committee reported to the association's annual convention.

It said there had been several gains in promoting "amicable relations between publishers and employes," including:

1. "Restoration of free local bargaining," and curbing of "the monopoly threatened by national bargaining."

2. An end of government control of wages.

3. Renewal for five years of the ANPA's international arbitration agreement with the AFL International Printing Pressmen's Union. It binds the parties to arbitrate disputes that can't be settled in negotiation.

Agreements Are Praised

The report, presented on the final day of the three-day convention praised such arbitration agreements as providing "mutual benefits" to employer and employe.

"Arbitration forces many settlements that strikes prevent," the report added.

It said there were 11 strikes against newspapers last year, compared with none in 1951, but added that the 1951 record of no strikes was "unparalleled in the twentieth century."

"Except for the clear 1951 slate, 1952 was the best in several years," the report said. It noted the 11 strikes last year compared with an average in the past decade of 23 a year.

The association will elect officers today and close tonight with a Bureau of Advertising dinner to be addressed by Vice President Nixon.

Grand Union Says High Bids Hold-up

The Grand Union Company, which plans to build a super market in the Roosevelt Park area, has contracted to buy another property in the area, it was learned today.

Start of the project has been delayed, it was also reported, because all bids received recently were too high.

The other property to be bought is on the westerly side of the intersection of Albany and Madison avenues, and is owned by John W. and Carrie Martin. It has already received a business zone designation and will add an area 50 by 125 feet to the land already acquired by the chain store company.

Esopus Legion Has Aid Organization

A Past Commanders Association to lend more positive assistance to all its projects and offer advice and guidance, when desired, has been formed by the former leaders of Town of Esopus Post, 1298, American Legion.

An announcement from the post said the new association was formed Wednesday evening, and the purposes were made public. It was also said that the past commanders plan to meet informally at regular intervals and hope to hold a dinner or social activity at least twice a year.

The first dinner is planned for June 8, the night before inauguration of new post officers, to welcome the present post commander, Edgar M. Maurer, into the association.

Past Commanders in the association now are P. Joseph Beichert, Robert J. Henry, Chester W. Barth, John A. Henry, Russell J. Maurer, Clifford D. Davis, Jr., and Roger W. Mabie.

The Esopus Legion was formed at the conclusion of World War 2 and has grown into one of the most active and agressive posts in the county. Last year it enjoyed the highest membership of its existence. The post has consistently led in the promotion of worthwhile community projects. Last summer, the Esopus Legion sponsored Little League baseball in the township, and shortly plans to embark upon its second season. During the postwar years, Post 1298 also purchased and developed its own Memorial Home. This building has now been completely debt free for several years.

Criticizes Rent Call to Newburgh

Protest has been offered in a letter by Attorney Thomas J. Plunket, chairman of the Ulster County Democratic Committee, to holding a rent decontrol meeting on April 23, at 7:30 p. m. in Newburgh.

In the letter to Francis J. McCambridge, local rent administrator, 12 Washington street, Poughkeepsie, Plunket said, "The People who rent homes or apartments who would normally be expected to attend such a hearing should not be required to travel to the city of Newburgh.

"It is true that the southeastern portion of this county is closer to Newburgh, but it will be a great inconvenience to the great majority."

Plunket urged in his communication to McCambridge that the meeting be adjourned to Kingston, the county seat for the 20 towns involved in the decontrol action "in order that all persons will be given an opportunity to be heard."

PSC Rate Boosts Reach $40,737,000 During Last Year

Albany, April 23 (AP)—The Public Service Commission —, in a sharp reversal of a three-year trend downward — granted rate increases totaling $40,737,000 to public utilities last year.

This brought the total increase since 1947 to more than 170 million dollars, the PSC said today in its annual report to the governor.

Last year's net increase was the largest since 1948, when the PSC granted a total of $43,190,800 in rate boosts.

Since 1948 the net amount of increases had dropped gradually. It was $31,056,300 in 1949, $29,386,800 in 1950 and $13,151,000 in 1951.

Last year's rate increases were given for every type of utility, except gas service.

Breakdown of Increases

It said public utilities had requested increases totaling $50,562,000.

"In every instance in recent years," the report said, "the companies in their petitions stressed the urgent need for increased revenue to meet the rising cost of operation."

Electric rates—$10,941,700, including a $9,211,040 raise for the Consolidated Edison Company in the New York city area.

Telephone rates—$22,956,921 including a $20,700,000 boost for the New York Telephone Company.

Bus fares—$3,767,550, the largest going to the Niagara Frontier Transit System Inc., which got a $1,736,900 boost.

Water rates—$1,306,166, including $544,000 to the Jamaica Water Supply Company.

Crowds Greet Hart Release; Family Gets News on TV

Wantagh, April 23 (AP)—A joyful family welcomed crowds of neighbors last night to celebrate the release of their son, Marine Pfc. George F. Hart, who was captured after only a few months in Korea.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hart of Wantagh were watching their television set when Private Hart's name was announced, as one of 14 Americans released yesterday in Korea by the Communists.

Before many minutes the house was full and noisy with the happy conversation of the Harts, then son, Russell, daughters Marilyn and Mrs. Joan Davis, their son-in-law, Arthur Davis, and a crowd of friends.

A friend told a reporter that George, 21 and single, had been in the army a year and was sent to Korea last November.

The family got a letter from George dated March 21 saying he was all right, that there had been some bombing but fortunately it was "our side" doing the bombing.

That was the last they had heard from him, but they later were informed he had been captured March 26.

One in Three Broke Law

Albany, April 23 (AP)—One driver in three broke New York state's 50-mile speed limit last year, the Public Works Department estimates. Three out of five drivers exceeded the limit on four-lane, divided highways, the department said yesterday. Its estimates were based on radar checks made of 8,669 vehicles at 35 sites.

That was the last they had heard from him, but they later were informed he had been captured March 26.

Stevedores Given Ryan's Support

New York, April 23 (AP)—Disgruntled longshoremen today had support of dock union chief Joseph P. Ryan in their fight against a new "no work-no pay" rule imposed by employers for union shop stewards.

The new rule has sparked sporadic strikes on several piers this week.

Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association, said yesterday that union shop stewards who adjust work grievances are entitled to company pay even though they do no cargo handling.

He said it is an accepted practice in other industries to keep shop stewards on the payrool although they perform no regular work—other than their union duties of ironing out employer-employe disputes.

The New York Shipping Association, including 170 shipping companies, decreed the new "no work, no pay" policy. But some companies at piers where workers struct in protect have agreed to keep shop stewards on the payroll as "relief workers."

Ryan pledged his cooperation with employers to the extent that no shop steward be paid unless he actually is performing either regular work or services as go-between in disputes.

High Livers

Some 4,000,000 Peruvian descendants of the ancient Inca Indians live at altitudes of 12,000 to 17,000 feet above sea level, or more than a mile above the highest point on the North American continent.

Losses Are Reported

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Strikes cost New York state employers 4,280,000 man days of idleness in 1952. The figures from a federal survey were announced yesterday. New York stood fifth, behind Pennsylvania, which led with 11,800,000 man days lost, and Ohio, California, and Illinois. The Buffalo metropolitan area, with 1,380,000 days, accounted for more than one third of New York's total lost time. For the country as a whole, the survey showed that 59,100,000 man days of idleness resulted from 5,117 strikes. The figure was second only to that in 1946, when 116 million man days were reported lost.

Stevedores Given Ryan's Support

New York, April 23 (AP)—Disgruntled longshoremen today had support of dock union chief Joseph P. Ryan in their fight against a new "no work-no pay" rule imposed by employers for union shop stewards.

The new rule has sparked sporadic strikes on several piers this week.

Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association, said yesterday that union shop stewards who adjust work grievances are entitled to company pay even though they do no cargo handling.

He said it is an accepted practice in other industries to keep shop stewards on the payrool although they perform no regular work—other than their union duties of ironing out employer-employe disputes.

The New York Shipping Association, including 170 shipping companies, decreed the new "no work, no pay" policy. But some companies at piers where workers struct in protect have agreed to keep shop stewards on the payroll as "relief workers."

Ryan pledged his cooperation with employers to the extent that no shop steward be paid unless he actually is performing either regular work or services as go-between in disputes.

Losses Are Reported

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Strikes cost New York state employers 4,280,000 man days of idleness in 1952. The figures from a federal survey were announced yesterday. New York stood fifth, behind Pennsylvania, which led with 11,800,000 man days lost, and Ohio, California, and Illinois. The Buffalo metropolitan area, with 1,380,000 days, accounted for more than one third of New York's total lost time. For the country as a whole, the survey showed that 59,100,000 man days of idleness resulted from 5,117 strikes. The figure was second only to that in 1946, when 116 million man days were reported lost.

IOOF Committee Has Meeting in Saugerties, Reports Are Given

The District Grand Committee, IOOF, met Saturday evening at the lodge rooms of William H. Raymond Lodge, 59, IOOF, Saugerties, with 51 Past Grands present. Following a dinner served by Thomas Wildey Council, the business session was held.

New members received the Past Grand degree conferred by Past Deputy J. Henry Hill. They were Chester A. Miller of Aretas Lodge, 172, IOOF; Walter Lang of Shokan Lodge, 491, IOOF, of Olive Bridge; William Melville of Bearsville Lodge, 533; Robert Herb and Mandville Diaz of William H. Raymond Lodge, 59, IOOF, of Saugerties. The secret work was conferred by Past District Deputy J. Henry Hill.

A communication was read from S. H. Bouton, past grand master, in favor of Clarance H. Munter as candidate for Grand Warden, and one from Niagara Lodge, 25, in favor of George Walker for renomination as Grand Lodge treasurer.

A report from District Deputy David H. Hilderbrant was received in which he expressed his pleasure at the number of public installations, especially that of Vineyard Rebekah Lodge of Highland. He spoke of the rejuvenation of Accord Lodge which had once been one of the most active lodges and which had been given special dispensation to act for the Grand Master. He also spoke of the activities of Ellenville Lodge which has made a great come-back and now has about 100 members. It had dropped down to about five members before staging the rebirth.

Secretary Elwyn C. Davis gave a report showing a balance of $134.24. The finance committee, J. Henry Hill, Aaron Gray and Alonzo Davis, all past district deputies, recommended a per capita assessment of 30 cents per member on lodges of the Ulster District. This recommendation was approved.

Nominations for office were called for and District Deputy Grand Master, Jacob J. Donovan, who served during the past year, from Sunshine Lodge, 929, of Highland, said he had no candidate for district deputy to mention at this time but expressed the hope that next year a candidate could be presented. Past District Deputy Aaron Gray nominated Past Grand Paul W. Rowe of Bearsville Lodge 533, for the office of district deputy and nominations were then closed.

Past District Deputy J. Henry Hill nominated Elwyn C. Davis of Shokan Lodge 491 for the office of secretary, a position which Davis has occupied since 1931.

On motion by Jacob J. Donovan, seconded by J. Henry Hill, nominations were closed and Rowe and Davis were unanimously elected. Past Grand Reginald E. Davis of Shokan Lodge and Shaffer Vredenburg acted as tellers.

District Deputy Rowe was escorted to the rostrum and was given a cordial welcome. He then expressed his gratification for the honor conferred upon him and asked for the cooperation of all lodges of the district to make his term in office a success.

Recommendations for grand lodge officers were made. Past Grand Harry Hulsair of Aretas Lodge 172, seconded by J. Henry Hill, moved the following be endorsed:

Grand Master Julius Lewis of Gideon Lodge 785; District Grand Master Jerry Judin of Lewis Kosuth Lodge 749; Grand Secretary William Klumpen of Niagara Lodge 252, (re-nominated); Grand Treasurer Past Grand Master F. George Walker of Niagara Lodge 925; Grand Representative Sherland Bouton of Calumet Lodge 62. Approved.

The following committes were named:

Finance, Harry Hulsair, Aaron Gray, Alonzo Davis; resolutions, George Braendly, Milton H. Ryan, William Rowe; committee on necrology, Jacob J. Donovan, Reginald E. Davis and N. Van Bramer; credentials, Sidney A. Johnson, Newton C. Van Etten, John Pepper.

Under the "good of the order" District Deputy Elect Rowe invited the committee to hold its annual session as guests of Bearsville Lodge, 533. The invitation was accepted. It was also moved that when the secretary sent out notices of the annual meeting members of committees be notified of membership.

The names were read by the secretary of those who had died the past year as follows: John Winands, Howard Van Bramer, William McFarland, all members of William H. Raymond Lodge; Nicholas Bode of Aretas Lodge; Past District Deputy Grand Master Fordyce Burhans of Bearsville Lodge, 533.

At the conclusion of the meeting a rising vote of thanks was given the host Lodge and the council serving the dinner. A poem, written by Arthur Trowbridge, in memory of members who have died was read. The session closed with prayer by the chaplain.

A film was shown after the meeting, Youth on the March, showing a visit to the UN.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, 'Children Are People,' etc.)

AN OVER-STRICT FAMILY

The following question comes from a young woman who tells me: "An unpleasant situation has arisen in our house from something which I consider very inocuous, and would appreciate your opinion in the matter. When my fiance takes me home after a date, I have, on occasion, asked him to come in for a cup of coffee while my parents are asleep. This came to the attention of my mother and father and they caused a horrible scene, saying that no respectable girl would do such a thing. My brother came to my defense by saying that he had been invited into a girl's house after a date many times in just such a way as I have mentioned. Don't you think they are being a little too strict about this?"

Finding anything to seriously criticize in your actions which you have described with the man you are going to marry would require a very old-fashioned point of view.

Choice of Forks

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if the short, broad salad fork may also be used as a pastry fork? If so, would its use be preferred to the luncheon-size fork? I have been told by some that the salad fork may correctly be used as a dessert fork, and by others that the luncheon fork is in better taste, if you have no dessert forks. Will you please advise me?

Answer: There is no rule against your choosing any forks you have, which seem to you the most practical for whatever use you wish to put them to.

Coffee After Dinner

Dear Mrs. Post: When dining in a restaurant and coffee is served in a small silver coffee pot at the end of the meal, who is supposed to pour it, the host or the woman with whom he is dining?

Answer: The waiter.

Shocking to Me

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for members of an organization to wear tuxedos while conducting a funeral service?

Answer: In my opinion, it is most improper. I cannot imagine any funeral at which such dress could be correct.

Showers can be an enjoyable, as well as an inexpensive, form of entertainment. The gifts can be trifles attractively wrapped with amusing greeting cards. Mrs. Post's leaflet E-13 includes details for various showers. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

On motion by Jacob J. Donovan, seconded by J. Henry Hill, nominations were closed and Rowe and Davis were unanimously elected. Past Grand Reginald E. Davis of Shokan Lodge and Shaffer Vredenburg acted as tellers.

District Deputy Rowe was escorted to the rostrum and was given a cordial welcome. He then expressed his gratification for the honor conferred upon him and asked for the cooperation of all lodges of the district to make his term in office a success.

Recommendations for grand lodge officers were made. Past Grand Harry Hulsair of Aretas Lodge 172, seconded by J. Henry Hill, moved the following be endorsed:

Grand Master Julius Lewis of Gideon Lodge 785; District Grand Master Jerry Judin of Lewis Kosuth Lodge 749; Grand Secretary William Klumpen of Niagara Lodge 252, (re-nominated); Grand Treasurer Past Grand Master F. George Walker of Niagara Lodge 925; Grand Representative Sherland Bouton of Calumet Lodge 62. Approved.

The following committes were named:

Under the "good of the order" District Deputy Elect Rowe invited the committee to hold its annual session as guests of Bearsville Lodge, 533. The invitation was accepted. It was also moved that when the secretary sent out notices of the annual meeting members of committees be notified of membership.

The names were read by the secretary of those who had died the past year as follows: John Winands, Howard Van Bramer, William McFarland, all members of William H. Raymond Lodge; Nicholas Bode of Aretas Lodge; Past District Deputy Grand Master Fordyce Burhans of Bearsville Lodge, 533.

At the conclusion of the meeting a rising vote of thanks was given the host Lodge and the council serving the dinner. A poem, written by Arthur Trowbridge, in memory of members who have died was read. The session closed with prayer by the chaplain.

A film was shown after the meeting. Youth on the March, showing a visit to the UN.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, 'Children Are People,' etc.)

AN OVER-STRICT FAMILY

The following question comes from a young woman who tells me: "An unpleasant situation has arisen in our house from something which I consider very inocuous, and would appreciate your opinion in the matter. When my fiance takes me home after a date, I have, on occasion, asked him to come in for a cup of coffee while my parents are asleep. This came to the attention of my mother and father and they caused a horrible scene, saying that no respectable girl would do such a thing. My brother came to my defense by saying that he had been invited into a girl's house after a date many times in just such a way as I have mentioned. Don't you think they are being a little too strict about this?"

Finding anything to seriously criticize in your actions which you have described with the man you are going to marry would require a very old-fashioned point of view.

Choice of Forks

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if the short, broad salad fork may also be used as a pastry fork? If so, would its use be preferred to the luncheon-size fork? I have been told by some that the salad fork may correctly be used as a dessert fork, and by others that the luncheon fork is in better taste, if you have no dessert forks. Will you please advise me?

Answer: There is no rule against your choosing any forks you have, which seem to you the most practical for whatever use you wish to put them to.

Coffee After Dinner

Dear Mrs. Post: When dining in a restaurant and coffee is served in a small silver coffee pot at the end of the meal, who is supposed to pour it, the host or the woman with whom he is dining?

Answer: The waiter.

Shocking to Me

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for members of an organization to wear tuxedos while conducting a funeral service?

Answer: In my opinion, it is most improper. I cannot imagine any funeral at which such dress could be correct.

Showers can be an enjoyable, as well as an inexpensive, form of entertainment. The gifts can be trifles attractively wrapped with amusing greeting cards. Hofman's Potent Bat Makes Leo's Juggling Look Good

Cracks Two Homers, Double and Single

By BEN PHLEGAR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Leo Durocher is fast becoming a firm believer in the theory that every cloud has a silver lining. And Bobby Hofman is one of the reasons.

The New York Giants' manager was forced to dig deep into his infield reserves when Davey Williams, his preferred choice for second base, reinjured his lame back Tuesday night. First string catcher Wes Westrum also was hurt and the club was in last place.

Leo switched Daryl Spencer, a shortstop by trade, from third base where he had been performing, to second, and settled for Hofman, a utility man used so infrequently that his name doesn't appear in many baseball books, at third. Sal Yvars did the catching.

Opens With Double

Hofman, batting leadoff against the Pirates at Pittsburgh last night, made Durocher look good in the first inning. He opened with a double and scored. In the third inning he hit a home run for the Giants' second tally. He singled in the fifth and then completed a perfect night with his second home run, this time with pitcher Jim Hearn on base, for the last two New York runs in the eighth as New York whipped the Pirates, 4-2.

The victory jumped the Giants to fifth place, enough to make Durocher happy even though he was tossed out of the game for arguing in the ninth inning. Bill Stewart, working at second base, drew the honor of being the first umpire this year to kick Leo out of a game.

First place in the National League also changed hands as the Philadelphia Phillies made it two in a row over Brooklyn, this time by a 5-4 margin, and St. Louis defeated Cincinnati, 8-3, in two other night games. The Phils and Cardinals now share the lead with Brooklyn in third, half a game behind. Milwaukee swamped Chicago, 15-6, in the only National League day game.

The New York Yankees took over sole possession of first place in the American League by whipping Boston, 6-2, while the St. Louis Browns were idle. A five-run ninth inning rally fell short for Detroit as the Tigers bowed to Chicago, 9-7, and Philadelphia beat Washington, 7-4, in a night affair. Cleveland, along with the Browns, wasn't scheduled.

Phils Batter Loes

Bill Loes, who pitched 89 innings—38 of them scoreless—for Brooklyn against Philadelphia last year, couldn't fool the Phillies last night. They got to him for all of their five runs before he departed in the fourth. Karl Drews, the No. 1 hope behind Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons in the Phils' pitching plans, struck out seven in winning his first game.

The Cardinals battered Cincinnati pitching for 12 hits, half of them for extra bases, to put down the Redlegs at St. Louis. Vinegar Bend Mizell walked six and committed two errors, but he struck out seven and lasted until two were out in the ninth before needing help from Brazle.

Hank Sauer, starting his first regular season game for the Cubs, singled, tripled and drove one over the left center field stands for three Chicago runs, but the Braves won with 17 hits good for 34 bases.

Boston's kiddie crop, youngest team in the majors, bowed to old age at Yankee Stadium. Johnny Mize, at 40 old enough to be the father of many of the Red Sox regulars, punched a pinch hit single with the bases loaded and the score tied in the eighth inning to put the Yankees on the winning trail.

Byrd Misses Record

Harry Byrd shut out Washington until there were two down in the ninth, then had to holler for help as the Senators rallied for four runs. Byrd, last year's rookie of the year in the American League was wild. He gave up 10 bases on balls—six short of the league record set in 1915 by Bruno Haas, another Philadelphia pitcher.

Las Vegas, Nev., April 23 (AP)—Taking aim at the top target of $10,000 in a $35,000 purse, 20 of the nation's leading golfers tee off today in the first round of the first annual Tournament of Champions.

Leading threats to capture the big prize are Lloyd Mangrum, Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff.

The scene is the new Desert Inn Country Club, which stretches out 7,102 yards over what used to be desert wastelands and now is a green, par 36-36—72 course.

Playing in twosomes, the first pair is scheduled to tee off at 4 p. m. (EST). Starting time is the same for all four rounds, winding up Sunday.

Rochester, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—Al Volmer of Rochester rolled a 710 triple, with an 81 handicap, last night to take over third place in the singles of the New York Men's Bowling Tournament. He replaced Don Nevins of Jackson Heights who had rolled 702 pins previously for third. Frank Foltasz of Perry scored 702 with a 39 handicap last night to tie with Nevins for fourth place. Other standings were unchanged.

Hofman's Potent Bat Makes Leo's Juggling Look Good

Cracks Two Homers, Double and Single

By BEN PHLEGAR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Leo Durocher is fast becoming a firm believer in the theory that every cloud has a silver lining. And Bobby Hofman is one of the reasons.

The New York Giants' manager was forced to dig deep into his infield reserves when Davey Williams, his preferred choice for second base, reinjured his lame back Tuesday night. First string catcher Wes Westrum also was hurt and the club was in last place.

Leo switched Daryl Spencer, a shortstop by trade, from third base where he had been performing, to second, and settled for Hofman, a utility man used so infrequently that his name doesn't appear in many baseball books, at third. Sal Yvars did the catching.

Opens With Double

Hofman, batting leadoff against the Pirates at Pittsburgh last night, made Durocher look good in the first inning. He opened with a double and scored. In the third inning he hit a home run for the Giants' second tally. He singled in the fifth and then completed a perfect night with his second home run, this time with pitcher Jim Hearn on base, for the last two New York runs in the eighth as New York whipped the Pirates, 4-2.

The victory jumped the Giants to fifth place, enough to make Durocher happy even though he was tossed out of the game for arguing in the ninth inning. Bill Stewart, working at second base, drew the honor of being the first umpire this year to kick Leo out of a game.

First place in the National League also changed hands as the Philadelphia Phillies made it two in a row over Brooklyn, this time by a 5-4 margin, and St. Louis defeated Cincinnati, 8-3, in two other night games. The Phils and Cardinals now share the lead with Brooklyn in third, half a game behind. Milwaukee swamped Chicago, 15-6, in the only National League day game.

The New York Yankees took over sole possession of first place in the American League by whipping Boston, 6-2, while the St. Louis Browns were idle. A five-run ninth inning rally fell short for Detroit as the Tigers bowed to Chicago, 9-7, and Philadelphia beat Washington, 7-4, in a night affair. Cleveland, along with the Browns, wasn't scheduled.

Phils Batter Loes

Bill Loes, who pitched 89 innings—38 of them scoreless—for Brooklyn against Philadelphia last year, couldn't fool the Phillies last night. They got to him for all of their five runs before he departed in the fourth. Karl Drews, the No. 1 hope behind Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons in the Phils' pitching plans, struck out seven in winning his first game.

The Cardinals battered Cincinnati pitching for 12 hits, half of them for extra bases, to put down the Redlegs at St. Louis. Vinegar Bend Mizell walked six and committed two errors, but he struck out seven and lasted until two were out in the ninth before needing help from Brazle.

Hank Sauer, starting his first regular season game for the Cubs, singled, tripled and drove one over the left center field stands for three Chicago runs, but the Braves won with 17 hits good for 34 bases.

Boston's kiddie crop, youngest team in the majors, bowed to old age at Yankee Stadium. Johnny Mize, at 40 old enough to be the father of many of the Red Sox regulars, punched a pinch hit single with the bases loaded and the score tied in the eighth inning to put the Yankees on the winning trail.

Byrd Misses Record

Harry Byrd shut out Washington until there were two down in the ninth, then had to holler for help as the Senators rallied for four runs. Byrd, last year's rookie of the year in the American League was wild. He gave up 10 bases on balls—six short of the league record set in 1915 by Bruno Haas, another Philadelphia pitcher.

Spring Sports Calendar Released at High School

Baseball '9' Busiest With Twelve Games

The Kingston High School spring sports calendar released today by Athletic Director G. Warren Kias reveals Coach Theron Culver's tennis squad as the second busiest varsity aggregation.

The Maroon netmen, who were scheduled to open their season at Beacon High today at 4:30 p. m., will play 10 matches.

Coach Bill Burke's baseball squad has 12 engagements, with the opener scheduled on April 20 at Poughkeepsie. The track and field forces under Coach Kias have six dates, starting with the May 2 opener at Middletown.

Coach John Gilligan's golfers swing into action against Liberty High Monday afternoon at the Grossinger Country Club in the first of eight dual meets carded this season. The Section 9 tournament will be played on the final date, June 1, at the Osiris Country Club at Walden.

Coach Al Gruner's Jayvee baseball squad has eight games booked, with the opener slated on May 1 against Onteora Central at the municipal stadium.

Three Vets Return

The Maroon netmen have three experienced returnees in Jack Schoonmaker, Marty Kantrowitz and Richard Smith. The second line strength consists of Phil Mandel, Mark Silk and George Baechtle.

Coach Culver feels the first three positions are manned by the best all-round unit he has had in several years.

The players have been stymied by bad weather and poor playing conditions but he was heartened by the spirited competition in the practice matches. Most of the sets went to 6-4, Culver said, with few one-sided results.

The Maroon mentor said he had not decided on doubles combination for the Beacon opener and probably will go with his first and second players in the No. 1 doubles. These plans could be altered by the results of the singles matches.

NBA Decides Today On Spivey Status; Draft Is Put Off

Boston, April 23 (AP)—The eligibility of Bill Spivey, seven-foot former Kentucky star, for the National Basketball Association's player draft will be the first item taken up by NBA owners and coaches here today when they open their three-day business session.

Spivey has been absolved of all blame in the intercollegiate basketball "fix" scandals. But several NBA owners, including Ben Kerner of Milwaukee, and Eddie Gottlieb of Philadelphia, have indicated that there is much dissension about including Spivey on the list of available player draftees.

As a result, the actual drafting, originally scheduled for today, has been put over until tomorrow.

500 Expected At New Paltz Relays May 9

More than 500 of the Hudson valley's finest scholastic track and field stars are expected to compete in the second annual Hudson Valley Relays at New Paltz High School on May 9.

Twenty-eight schools were represented at last year's inaugural meet but New Paltz officials indicate the entry list has already exceeded that number.

The new track had an exceptionally good surface for a first year operation. Now, after having settled for another year, the track promises to be faster and more records are expected to be eclipsed this year.

The 1952 meet erased nine records, tied two, and established seven more marks for the boys to shoot at. Cardinal Farley, Arlington, Goshen, Coxsackie-Athens, Nyack, Spring Valley, St. Agnes, Tappan-Zee, Highland Falls and Haldane provided the record breakers last year.

Two Changes Made

One change in the Relay setup is expected to create greater interest and competition this year. That is the merger of Class B. and Class A schools into one category.

This change brings the athletes from Newburgh, Middletown, Poughkeepsie, Nyack, Suffern, Arlington and Wappingers into competition against each other. They were the big guns last season.

Another change will be the elimination of heats in the Invitational "100," the highlight of the meet. The change is designed to give coaches the opportunity to use their sprint stars in the relays as well as the "100."

A two-mile relay has been added to the card of events in which the best middle distance men of the area will have a chance to show their stuff.

Hogan Under Bitter Fire For Golf Fee

Las Vegas, Nev., April 23 (AP)—Golf star Ben Hogan came in for bitter criticism yesterday from his fellow professionals.

Friction has been simmering for days over reports that Hogan had demanded and been refused $5,000 for appearing in the $35,000 tournament of champions which starts here today.

An official source with the tournament, asking that his name be withheld, told The Associated Press that Hogan had asked for the $5,000 through a third party.

When the sponsors declined, Hogan sent a telegram saying he would be unable to play here. This came after Hogan won the Masters tournament at Augusta, Ga., 10 days ago, the source said.

The trouble bubbled to the surface yesterday when another top flight star, Lloyd Mangrum, said he would not compete in the $15,000 Pan-American tournament at Mexico City next week.

Mangrum Wants Out

Mangrum said he had been informed Hogan had received a $5,000 guarantee to play in the Pan-American.

"If that is so, and some of the others of us are to get nothing, I want no part of the tournament," he added.

"Understand, it's all right with me what Hogan gets. He can get all he wants, and more power to him. But I don't think it is fair to skip the rest of us. After all, we went down there and helped them start the tournament last year. We came away and told everyone what a fine tournament it was.

"I understand Hogan wanted $5,000 to play here. He decided not to, although all the rest of us came here to help out on the Damon Runyon cancer fund. We didn't ask for anything."

Mangrum added that the sponsors here are already doing enough with their $35,000 purse, plus $35,000 which goes to the cancer fund.

Demaret to Pass Up Play

Jimmy Demaret, a long time friend of Hogan, likewise said he was passing up the Pan-Am. He went no further except to say "several of us just don't care to play there this year."

A PGA official admitted that most of the players were passing up Mexico City, and added: "Sure, they resent the fact that Hogan wouldn't play here but is getting $5,000 just to appear in Mexico. They don't think it is fair."

Hogan was not available for comment.

Schmidt to Meet Melby Here May 1

Hans Schmidt, the German giant from Munich, and Wild Bill Melby from Salt Lake City, Utah, are matched in the star bout on the wrestling card for the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, Friday night, May 1.

Promoter Ted Bayly said today he signed the two because of their popularity as Chicago television stars. "The match should be plenty rough," he said. Two other bouts will make up the card. Starting time is 8:45 p. m.

Schmidt put on a real rough house show at the auditorium in March, defeating Bobby Nelson in two straight falls. He won the first one in 1:03 with a flying mare and forced Nelson to concede the second in one of the roughest matches this season in the Kingston ring.

Schmidt's ham-like hands with which he usually batters a foe into submission, have helped bring him many falls and disqualifications. He can really wrestle when he wants to and knows many holds. His most effective is the old reliable body slam and a back breaker.

Melby depends on speed and agility, along with what he calls the cobra hold, to cut the big fellows down to his size. The cobra is applied as a leg and opposite arm grapevine, which pulls the abdominal muscles so tight it causes a victim to concede falls.

Spring Sports Calendar Released at High School

Baseball '9' Busiest With Twelve Games

The Kingston High School spring sports calendar released today by Athletic Director G. Warren Kias reveals Coach Theron Culver's tennis squad as the second busiest varsity aggregation.

The Maroon netmen, who were scheduled to open their season at Beacon High today at 4:30 p. m., will play 10 matches.

Coach Bill Burke's baseball squad has 12 engagements, with the opener scheduled on April 20 at Poughkeepsie. The track and field forces under Coach Kias have six dates, starting with the May 2 opener at Middletown.

Coach John Gilligan's golfers swing into action against Liberty High Monday afternoon at the Grossinger Country Club in the first of eight dual meets carded this season. The Section 9 tournament will be played on the final date, June 1, at the Osiris Country Club at Walden.

Coach Al Gruner's Jayvee baseball squad has eight games booked, with the opener slated on May 1 against Onteora Central at the municipal stadium.

Three Vets Return

The Maroon netmen have three experienced returnees in Jack Schoonmaker, Marty Kantrowitz and Richard Smith. The second line strength consists of Phil Mandel, Mark Silk and George Baechtle.

Coach Culver feels the first three positions are manned by the best all-round unit he has had in several years.

The players have been stymied by bad weather and poor playing conditions but he was heartened by the spirited competition in the practice matches. Most of the sets went to 6-4, Culver said, with few one-sided results.

The Maroon mentor said he had not decided on doubles combination for the Beacon opener and probably will go with his first and second players in the No. 1 doubles. These plans could be altered by the results of the singles matches.

NBA Decides Today On Spivey Status; Draft Is Put Off

Boston, April 23 (AP)—The eligibility of Bill Spivey, seven-foot former Kentucky star, for the National Basketball Association's player draft will be the first item taken up by NBA owners and coaches here today when they open their three-day business session.

Spivey has been absolved of all blame in the intercollegiate basketball "fix" scandals. But several NBA owners, including Ben Kerner of Milwaukee, and Eddie Gottlieb of Philadelphia, have indicated that there is much dissension about including Spivey on the list of available player draftees.

As a result, the actual drafting, originally scheduled for today, has been put over until tomorrow.

500 Expected At New Paltz Relays May 9

More than 500 of the Hudson valley's finest scholastic track and field stars are expected to compete in the second annual Hudson Valley Relays at New Paltz High School on May 9.

Twenty-eight schools were represented at last year's inaugural meet but New Paltz officials indicate the entry list has already exceeded that number.

The new track had an exceptionally good surface for a first year operation. Now, after having settled for another year, the track promises to be faster and more records are expected to be eclipsed this year.

The 1952 meet erased nine records, tied two, and established seven more marks for the boys to shoot at. Cardinal Farley, Arlington, Goshen, Coxsackie-Athens, Nyack, Spring Valley, St. Agnes, Tappan-Zee, Highland Falls and Haldane provided the record breakers last year.

Two Changes Made

One change in the Relay setup is expected to create greater interest and competition this year. That is the merger of Class B. and Class A schools into one category.

This change brings the athletes from Newburgh, Middletown, Poughkeepsie, Nyack, Suffern, Arlington and Wappingers into competition against each other. They were the big guns last season.

Another change will be the elimination of heats in the Invitational "100," the highlight of the meet. The change is designed to give coaches the opportunity to use their sprint stars in the relays as well as the "100."

A two-mile relay has been added to the card of events in which the best middle distance men of the area will have a chance to show their stuff.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting — Bob Hofman, New York Giants, homered twice, singled and doubled in four times at bat, scoring three runs and driving in three as the Giants beat Pittsburgh, 4-2.

Pitching—Karl Drews, Philadelphia, Phils, struck out seven, walked two and allowed seven hits in defeating Brooklyn, 5-4.

Hogan Under Bitter Fire For Golf Fee

Las Vegas, Nev., April 23 (AP)—Golf star Ben Hogan came in for bitter criticism yesterday from his fellow professionals.

Friction has been simmering for days over reports that Hogan had demanded and been refused $5,000 for appearing in the $35,000 tournament of champions which starts here today.

An official source with the tournament, asking that his name be withheld, told The Associated Press that Hogan had asked for the $5,000 through a third party.

When the sponsors declined, Hogan sent a telegram saying he would be unable to play here. This came after Hogan won the Masters tournament at Augusta, Ga., 10 days ago, the source said.

The trouble bubbled to the surface yesterday when another top flight star, Lloyd Mangrum, said he would not compete in the $15,000 Pan-American tournament at Mexico City next week.

Mangrum Wants Out

Mangrum said he had been informed Hogan had received a $5,000 guarantee to play in the Pan-American.

"If that is so, and some of the others of us are to get nothing, I want no part of the tournament," he added.

"Understand, it's all right with me what Hogan gets. He can get all he wants, and more power to him. But I don't think it is fair to skip the rest of us. After all, we went down there and helped them start the tournament last year. We came away and told everyone what a fine tournament it was.

"I understand Hogan wanted $5,000 to play here. He decided not to, although all the rest of us came here to help out on the Damon Runyon cancer fund. We didn't ask for anything."

Mangrum added that the sponsors here are already doing enough with their $35,000 purse, plus $35,000 which goes to the cancer fund.

Demaret to Pass Up Play

Jimmy Demaret, a long time friend of Hogan, likewise said he was passing up the Pan-Am. He went no further except to say "several of us just don't care to play there this year."

A PGA official admitted that most of the players were passing up Mexico City, and added: "Sure, they resent the fact that Hogan wouldn't play here but is getting $5,000 just to appear in Mexico. They don't think it is fair."

Hogan was not available for comment.

Schmidt to Meet Melby Here May 1

Hans Schmidt, the German giant from Munich, and Wild Bill Melby from Salt Lake City, Utah, are matched in the star bout on the wrestling card for the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, Friday night, May 1.

Promoter Ted Bayly said today he signed the two because of their popularity as Chicago television stars. "The match should be plenty rough," he said. Two other bouts will make up the card. Starting time is 8:45 p. m.

Schmidt put on a real rough house show at the auditorium in March, defeating Bobby Nelson in two straight falls. He won the first one in 1:03 with a flying mare and forced Nelson to concede the second in one of the roughest matches this season in the Kingston ring.

Schmidt's ham-like hands with which he usually batters a foe into submission, have helped bring him many falls and disqualifications. He can really wrestle when he wants to and knows many holds. His most effective is the old reliable body slam and a back breaker.

Melby depends on speed and agility, along with what he calls the cobra hold, to cut the big fellows down to his size. The cobra is applied as a leg and opposite arm grapevine, which pulls the abdominal muscles so tight it causes a victim to concede falls.

Carter Winds Up Serious Workouts For Collins Bout

Boston, April 23 (AP)—Apparently confident about making the 135-pounds limit, lightweight champion Jimmy Carter today planned to wind up his preparations for his 15-round title defense against Boston's Tommy Collins by taking "a long walk."

Carter completed his serious work for tomorrow night's 15-round bout, which will draw $170,000 worth of cash customers into the Boston Garden, with yesterday's brisk gymnasium workout.

Wearing huge 14-ounce gloves, Carter practiced his powerful left hooks against the light and heavy bags.

Up in rural action, challenger Collins, who expects to weigh in around 133 tomorrow, planned one more stiff workout. He ran five miles before putting in six rounds on the punching bags yesterday and he will train almost as hard today.

An exceptional boxer, Collins generally frightens his handlers by tossing aside his skill and trading blow-for-blow, even when he is far ahead on points.

"I haven't made any plans for Carter. I'll wait until I feel him out Friday night," Collins explained. Carter, who probably will be a 10-8 favorite for this title defense, also scorns pre-bout planning.

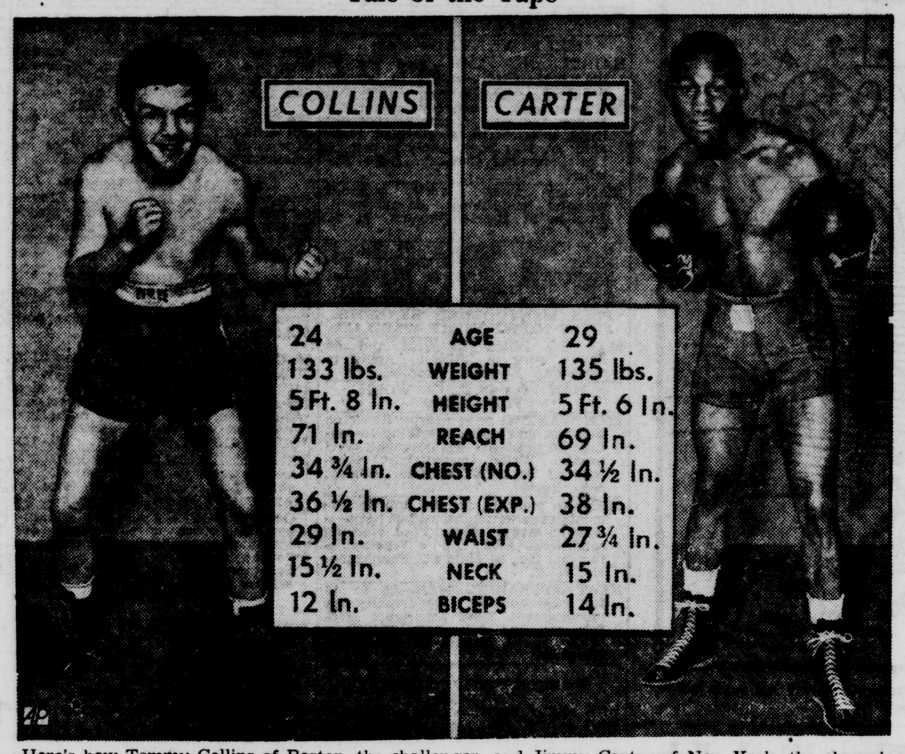
The bout will be televised nationally over NBC at 10 p. m., EST.

Rocky Steps Up Drills

Holland, Mich., April 23 (AP)—Stepping up the tempo, heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano boxed four rounds yesterday as he continued training for his once-postponed title defense against Jersey Joe Walcott at Chicago May 15. Manager Al Weill said the number of rounds will be stepped up as the training continues.

Jockey Logan Batcheller has the smallest foot in the Hialeah jockey room. He wears a size two boot.

Tale of the Tape



Here's how Tommy Collins of Boston, the challenger, and Jimmy Carter of New York, the champion, shape up for their 15-round lightweight championship bout at the Boston Garden, April 24.

Lowest Daily Double

Yonkers, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—A daily double payoff of $8.40, the lowest in the history of Yonkers Raceway, was recorded last night, on the combination of two odds-on-favorites. Dale Fingo, driven by Earl Avery won the opener at $3.30 and Ceyway, handled by Billy Haughton, captured the second at $3.90. The previous low double price was $8.70, on May 10, 1952. The featured Manhattan trot saw Thunderation come charging down the middle of the track to collar favored Face Value by a head. Clint Hodgins brought the $10.60 winner home in 2:07.3, the fastest time for a trot at the meeting. Doctor Truax was third.

Water Fills Tires

Stonewall, Colo. (AP) — To save tire casings and rolling stock, water instead of air is being used in the tires of underground vehicles at the new six-million-dollar Allen coal mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Corp., in southern Colorado. Officials said 100 pounds of water pressure in the tires on shuttle cars used in he working means longer life for the cars as they bounce over rough terrain. They claim water-filled tires give the vehicles more stability.

Seat, Pipe Restful Combination Helps Strafaci Score Win

Pinehurst, N. C., April 23 (AP)—Frank Strafaci, the Woodhaven, N. Y., veteran, came up with a new idea yesterday in the North and South Amateur golf tournament. It happened during his one-up third round victory over Frank Stranahan, the defending champion from Toledo.

Strafaci walked around the 6,952-yard No. 2 country club course carrying a folding seat which he employed on the greens while puffing peacefully away on a pipe. The restful combination paid off, with the help of some Stranahan lapses, to send Strafaci into the quarter finals today against Mal Galletta of St. Albans, N. Y., in a lower bracket pairing.

The winner will move into the semi-finals tomorrow against the winner of a match pairing Harry Haverstick, Lancaster, Pa., and Bob Cochran, St. Louis.

Strafaci, an 8 and 7 victim of Stranahan last year, probably has never recorded a more satisfying victory than that of yesterday.

Carter Winds Up Serious Workouts For Collins Bout

Boston, April 23 (AP)—Apparently confident about making the 135-pounds limit, lightweight champion Jimmy Carter today planned to wind up his preparations for his 15-round title defense against Boston's Tommy Collins by taking "a long walk."

Carter completed his serious work for tomorrow night's 15-round bout, which will draw $170,000 worth of cash customers into the Boston Garden, with yesterday's brisk gymnasium workout.

Wearing huge 14-ounce gloves, Carter practiced his powerful left hooks against the light and heavy bags.

Up in rural action, challenger Collins, who expects to weigh in around 133 tomorrow, planned one more stiff workout. He ran five miles before putting in six rounds on the punching bags yesterday and he will train almost as hard today.

An exceptional boxer, Collins generally frightens his handlers by tossing aside his skill and trading blow-for-blow, even when he is far ahead on points.

"I haven't made any plans for Carter. I'll wait until I feel him out Friday night," Collins explained. Carter, who probably will be a 10-8 favorite for this title defense, also scorns pre-bout planning.

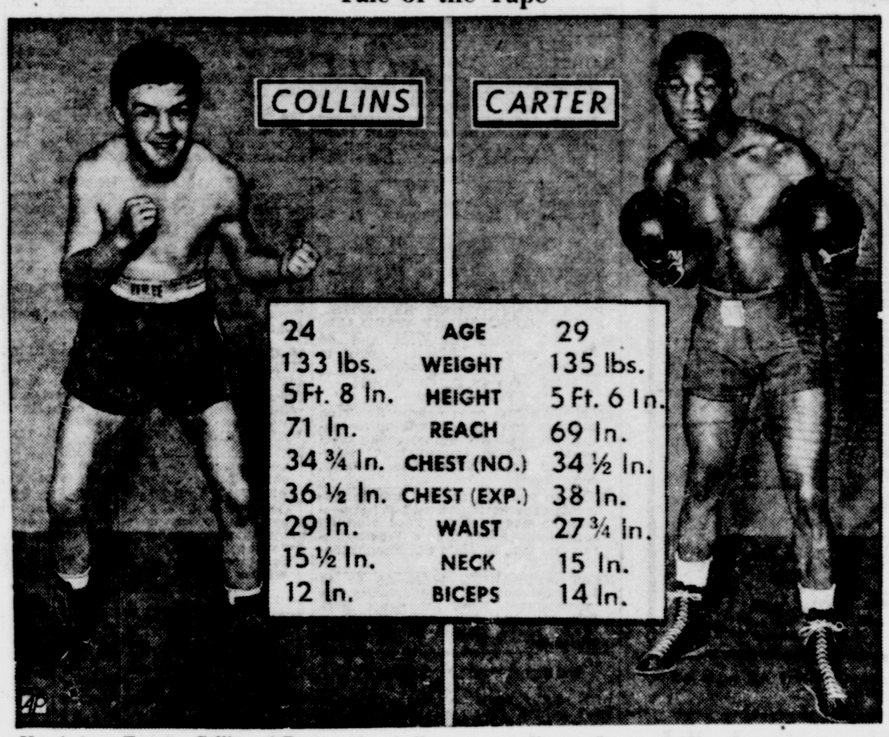
The bout will be televised nationally over NBC at 10 p. m., EST.

Rocky Steps Up Drills

Holland, Mich., April 23 (AP)—Stepping up the tempo, heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano boxed four rounds yesterday as he continued training for his once-postponed title defense against Jersey Joe Walcott at Chicago May 15. Manager Al Weill said the number of rounds will be stepped up as the training continues.

Jockey Logan Batcheller has the smallest foot in the Hialeah jockey room. He wears a size two boot.

Tale of the Tape



Here's how Tommy Collins of Boston, the challenger, and Jimmy Carter of New York, the champion, shape up for their 15-round lightweight championship bout at the Boston Garden, April 24.

After a slow start, Frank Grimaldi bombarded two hefty scores of 253 and 246 for a 641 triple to pace the Central Rec. Major League firing Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, Jack's Rest advanced its league lead to three full games over Old Capital Motors as the Restaurant keglers swept three games from Welch's Grocery while the Old Caps managed to salvage only one game in their match with Hymes Shoes.

Bill Lawrence was runnerup to Grimaldi with 237-212 for 626. Al Kieffer posted 212-202-606 and Steve Fassbender shot 213-209 for 604.

Lowest Daily Double

Yonkers, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—A daily double payoff of $8.40, the lowest in the history of Yonkers Raceway, was recorded last night, on the combination of two odds-on-favorites. Dale Fingo, driven by Earl Avery won the opener at $3.30 and Ceyway, handled by Billy Haughton, captured the second at $3.90. The previous low double price was $8.70, on May 10, 1952. The featured Manhattan trot saw Thunderation come charging down the middle of the track to collar favored Face Value by a head. Clint Hodgins brought the $10.60 winner home in 2:07.3, the fastest time for a trot at the meeting. Doctor Truax was third.

Seat, Pipe Restful Combination Helps Strafaci Score Win

Pinehurst, N. C., April 23 (AP)—Frank Strafaci, the Woodhaven, N. Y., veteran, came up with a new idea yesterday in the North and South Amateur golf tournament. It happened during his one-up third round victory over Frank Stranahan, the defending champion from Toledo.

Strafaci walked around the 6,952-yard No. 2 country club course carrying a folding seat which he employed on the greens while puffing peacefully away on a pipe. The restful combination paid off, with the help of some Stranahan lapses, to send Strafaci into the quarter finals today against Mal Galletta of St. Albans, N. Y., in a lower bracket pairing.

The winner will move into the semi-finals tomorrow against the winner of a match pairing Harry Haverstick, Lancaster, Pa., and Bob Cochran, St. Louis.

Strafaci, an 8 and 7 victim of Stranahan last year, probably has never recorded a more satisfying victory than that of yesterday.

Water Fills Tires

Stonewall, Colo. (AP) — To save tire casings and rolling stock, water instead of air is being used in the tires of underground vehicles at the new six-million-dollar Allen coal mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Corp., in southern Colorado. Officials said 100 pounds of water pressure in the tires on shuttle cars used in he working means longer life for the cars as they bounce over rough terrain. They claim water-filled tires give the vehicles more stability.

Officials Attend Area Discussion On Civil Defense

Col. Allan L. Hanstein, county director of Civil Defense, attended an area meeting held at Grossingers on Wednesday at which time a conference was held to discuss the problems of the "support area" adjacent to the city of New York and make preparations for coordinating the services with the metropolitan area program in the event of an atomic attack.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Deputy County Commissioner of Public Welfare Philip Schantz and J. G. M. Hilton of Saugerties, Civil Defense coordinator of operations in the county also attended the session.

Seven Counties Present

The conference was attended by Civil Defense officials from the seven county area adjacent to New York city which will be called upon to act in a support capacity in the event of atomic attack on New York. That area includes Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Orange, Rockland, Sullivan and Ulster counties. Chief Inspector O'Brien of the New York police department and Civil Defense director of New York headed the conference along with other New York city officials.

Problems pertinent to evacuation of metropolitan area residents were discussed and the part which the support areas must play and their assistance were reviewed. Problems which will arise in the support areas in September when a simulated atom bomb attack will be held in New York were gone over and arrangements made to cope with them.

Officials Attend Area Discussion On Civil Defense

Col. Allan L. Hanstein, county director of Civil Defense, attended an area meeting held at Grossingers on Wednesday at which time a conference was held to discuss the problems of the "support area" adjacent to the city of New York and make preparations for coordinating the services with the metropolitan area program in the event of an atomic attack.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Deputy County Commissioner of Public Welfare Philip Schantz and J. G. M. Hilton of Saugerties, Civil Defense coordinator of operations in the county also attended the session.

Seven Counties Present

The conference was attended by Civil Defense officials from the seven county area adjacent to New York city which will be called upon to act in a support capacity in the event of atomic attack on New York. That area includes Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Orange, Rockland, Sullivan and Ulster counties. Chief Inspector O'Brien of the New York police department and Civil Defense director of New York headed the conference along with other New York city officials.

Problems pertinent to evacuation of metropolitan area residents were discussed and the part which the support areas must play and their assistance were reviewed. Problems which will arise in the support areas in September when a simulated atom bomb attack will be held in New York were gone over and arrangements made to cope with them.

Wharton Suggests Farmers Control Surplus Output

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton of Coxsackie, representing the 29th District in Washington, thinks that dairy farmers themselves, who understand their own problems and industry, should give thought to controlling surplus production.

Wharton expressed himself in a letter to the press of the areas he represents, in which he touched on important but not so widely publicized matters that interest his constituents, especially Social Security.

Inviting mail from his district, the congressman said, "I will abide by the majority decision of the people of our congressional district and your expressions will receive careful consideration."

Know Own Problems

Wharton, calling attention to study in Washington of the butter surplus, said "I think it would be both appropriate and desirable that the dairy industry now give thought to controlling surplus production.

"Producers themselves are most familiar with the problems of their own industry and experience dictates that a well-intended solution from some other source may not prove entirely satisfactory.

"I have received several suggestions from individual producers, the most feasible of which appears to be the control of new dairies which sometimes are set up on marginal farms by inexperienced purchasers through credit arrangements that have little chance of success.

"The end result is disastrous to all parties concerned and definitely tends to flood an already distressed industry.

"The several producer and farm organizations would do well to discuss and agree on a likely solution of this problem of dairy surpluses without delay and submit their views to Congress and to the Department of Agriculture."

Would Welcome Viewpoints

"Social Security is here to stay," Wharton said, pointing out that it has mass approval from most sources, and indicating that he would welcome viewpoints from those not already covered, the professional men and farmers, two very important groups in the 29th Congressional District.

"Careful and intelligent consideration of the subject dictates that Social Security is here to stay," Wharton said, adding, "I will abide by the majority decision of the people of our congressional district and your expression will receive careful consideration."

Mild Weather Continues

(By The Associated Press)

Generally mild weather continued in most of the country today. There were some wet and cloudy spots but sunny skies were in prospect for wide areas. There were showers in southern New England and New York and light rain fell in Washington state and on the western slopes of the Rockies. Thunderstorms hit sections of eastern New Mexico and western Texas as a squall line moved eastward over the region. Readings were in the 90's in some parts of the mid-continent yesterday, including 96 at Garden City, Kans., and 92 at Guymon, Okla. Temperatures around the country ranged in the 60's to the 80's, with the day's top of 99 at Presidio, Tex.

Dozen Sign Petition To Force House Action

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Twelve more House members have signed a secret petition to force House action on a bill to cut income taxes effective July 1.

The petition, requiring 218 signatures to become effective, previously had been signed by 37 members.

The 12 new signers: Reps. St. George of New York, Broyhill of Virginia, Buckley of New York, Bow of Ohio, Kearny of New York, Van Zandt of Pennsylvania, Smith of Wisconsin, and Vursell of Illinois, all Republicans; Cooper of Tennessee; Mills of Arkansas; Green of Pennsylvania, and Friedel of Maryland, all Democrats.

Gillespie Is Hurt In Two-Car Crash

One person was injured slightly in a two-car mishap at Washington avenue and Warren street last night.

Officers George Loughran and John Crespino reported at 7:45 p. m., that the two cars were headed toward the Boulevard on Washington avenue when they collided.

One was driven by Vincent R. Shortell, of 29 Warren street, and the other by Walter S. TenEyck, of Hurley. John Gillespie, of Port Ewen, who was riding with TenEyck was treated at Kingston Hospital for bruises of the forehead and a neck injury, the report said.

The Shortell car was damaged on the left rear fender and the other car on the right front fender.

Highland Falls Man Pleads Guilty to Charge

Kenneth V. Lewis, 42, Highland Falls, entered a plea of guilty to burglary, third degree, Wednesday afternoon in County court. H. Edgar Timmerman appeared for Lewis. Sentence will be imposed on Friday at 10 o'clock. In answer to the usual questions Lewis stated he had been convicted of petit larceny and also grand larceny in 1935 at Cornwall and in 1941 he had been convicted of grand larceny at Cooperstown.

Several conferences were held by Judge Cashin in civil cases but no case was ready for trial and jurors were excused until today.

Friday morning several defendants will appear in court for sentence.

To Appraise Property

On Saturday, April 25, at 10 a. m. an appraisal an inventory of the property of the late Mrs. Kathryn Boice Hays will be made at the dwelling at 110 Fair street. Notice of such inventory and appraisal has been sent by George F. Kaufman, attorney for the executors, Evelyn Betts Green and Edward H. Remmert, to all persons interested in the will. Numerous individuals, public institutions and religious bodies were named beneficiaries under the will.

World production of sugar has increased about 600,000 tons a year for the past 40 years.

Peace Talk Blamed For Apathy Shown To Sky Watch Call

Peace proposal discussions which have been given wide circulation recently may be responsible for the apathy of citizens all over the country toward the need of aircraft warning observers. The fact that peace proposals are being discussed does not lessen the danger of an attack by air at this stage of the proceedings, and actually during such a period of possible slackening of alertness there comes the time for success in a "sneak attack."

To prevent a repetition of Pearl Harbor every precaution should be taken to protect the country and the aircraft spotting service should be manned at full capacity.

Need Men Volunteers

Mrs. Dewey Logan, who has command of the local aircraft warning service, is making an appeal now for additional men for the early morning and late evening hours duty.

Col. Allan L. Hanstein, civil defense director for Ulster county, today called attention to the appeal from Mrs. Logan. "This service is of the greatest importance for the protection of our country, and it takes but little of the time of an individual," he stated. Stressing the importance of the service he asks that additional spotters enroll for the morning and late night shifts. Civil Defense now has an office in the city hall where calls to 7000 will be received at all hours. Volunteers may call that number and enroll.

Injured in Fall

New York, April 23 (AP)—Mrs. Katie Zeyer, 64, of 43-49 42nd street, Sunnyside, Queens, sustained critical injuries yesterday when she fell three stories while cleaning an apartment window at 534 East 14th street. Mrs. Zeyer had been hired by Joseph Fabian, tenant of the apartment where the accident occurred, to do cleaning work. Taken to Bellevue Hospital, she was reported in critical condition from internal injuries.

The United States' stock of corn was 2.5 billion bushels Jan. 1, 1953 which was 9 per cent higher than a year previous.

Wharton Suggests Farmers Control Surplus Output

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton of Coxsackie, representing the 29th District in Washington, thinks that dairy farmers themselves, who understand their own problems and industry, should give thought to controlling surplus production.

Wharton expressed himself in a letter to the press of the areas he represents, in which he touched on important but not so widely publicized matters that interest his constituents, especially Social Security.

Inviting mail from his district, the congressman said, "I will abide by the majority decision of the people of our congressional district and your expressions will receive careful consideration."

Know Own Problems

Wharton, calling attention to study in Washington of the butter surplus, said "I think it would be both appropriate and desirable that the dairy industry now give thought to controlling surplus production.

"Producers themselves are most familiar with the problems of their own industry and experience dictates that a well-intended solution from some other source may not prove entirely satisfactory.

"I have received several suggestions from individual producers, the most feasible of which appears to be the control of new dairies which sometimes are set up on marginal farms by inexperienced purchasers through credit arrangements that have little chance of success.

"The end result is disastrous to all parties concerned and definitely tends to flood an already distressed industry.

"The several producer and farm organizations would do well to discuss and agree on a likely solution of this problem of dairy surpluses without delay and submit their views to Congress and to the Department of Agriculture."

Would Welcome Viewpoints

"Social Security is here to stay," Wharton said, pointing out that it has mass approval from most sources, and indicating that he would welcome viewpoints from those not already covered, the professional men and farmers, two very important groups in the 29th Congressional District.

"Careful and intelligent consideration of the subject dictates that Social Security is here to stay," Wharton said, adding, "I will abide by the majority decision of the people of our congressional district and your expression will receive careful consideration."

Mild Weather Continues

(By The Associated Press)

Generally mild weather continued in most of the country today. There were some wet and cloudy spots but sunny skies were in prospect for wide areas. There were showers in southern New England and New York and light rain fell in Washington state and on the western slopes of the Rockies. Thunderstorms hit sections of eastern New Mexico and western Texas as a squall line moved eastward over the region. Readings were in the 90's in some parts of the mid-continent yesterday, including 96 at Garden City, Kans., and 92 at Guymon, Okla. Temperatures around the country ranged in the 60's to the 80's, with the day's top of 99 at Presidio, Tex.

Gillespie Is Hurt In Two-Car Crash

One person was injured slightly in a two-car mishap at Washington avenue and Warren street last night.

Officers George Loughran and John Crespino reported at 7:45 p. m., that the two cars were headed toward the Boulevard on Washington avenue when they collided.

One was driven by Vincent R. Shortell, of 29 Warren street, and the other by Walter S. TenEyck, of Hurley. John Gillespie, of Port Ewen, who was riding with TenEyck was treated at Kingston Hospital for bruises of the forehead and a neck injury, the report said.

The Shortell car was damaged on the left rear fender and the other car on the right front fender.

Highland Falls Man Pleads Guilty to Charge

Kenneth V. Lewis, 42, Highland Falls, entered a plea of guilty to burglary, third degree, Wednesday afternoon in County court. H. Edgar Timmerman appeared for Lewis. Sentence will be imposed on Friday at 10 o'clock. In answer to the usual questions Lewis stated he had been convicted of petit larceny and also grand larceny in 1935 at Cornwall and in 1941 he had been convicted of grand larceny at Cooperstown.

Several conferences were held by Judge Cashin in civil cases but no case was ready for trial and jurors were excused until today.

Friday morning several defendants will appear in court for sentence.

To Appraise Property

On Saturday, April 25, at 10 a. m. an appraisal an inventory of the property of the late Mrs. Kathryn Boice Hays will be made at the dwelling at 110 Fair street. Notice of such inventory and appraisal has been sent by George F. Kaufman, attorney for the executors, Evelyn Betts Green and Edward H. Remmert, to all persons interested in the will. Numerous individuals, public institutions and religious bodies were named beneficiaries under the will.

World production of sugar has increased about 600,000 tons a year for the past 40 years.

Peace Talk Blamed For Apathy Shown To Sky Watch Call

Peace proposal discussions which have been given wide circulation recently may be responsible for the apathy of citizens all over the country toward the need of aircraft warning observers. The fact that peace proposals are being discussed does not lessen the danger of an attack by air at this stage of the proceedings, and actually during such a period of possible slackening of alertness there comes the time for success in a "sneak attack."

To prevent a repetition of Pearl Harbor every precaution should be taken to protect the country and the aircraft spotting service should be manned at full capacity.

Need Men Volunteers

Mrs. Dewey Logan, who has command of the local aircraft warning service, is making an appeal now for additional men for the early morning and late evening hours duty.

Col. Allan L. Hanstein, civil defense director for Ulster county, today called attention to the appeal from Mrs. Logan. "This service is of the greatest importance for the protection of our country, and it takes but little of the time of an individual," he stated. Stressing the importance of the service he asks that additional spotters enroll for the morning and late night shifts. Civil Defense now has an office in the city hall where calls to 7000 will be received at all hours. Volunteers may call that number and enroll.

Injured in Fall

New York, April 23 (AP)—Mrs. Katie Zeyer, 64, of 43-49 42nd street, Sunnyside, Queens, sustained critical injuries yesterday when she fell three stories while cleaning an apartment window at 534 East 14th street. Mrs. Zeyer had been hired by Joseph Fabian, tenant of the apartment where the accident occurred, to do cleaning work. Taken to Bellevue Hospital, she was reported in critical condition from internal injuries.
